KEY WEST, June 23.—The crew of the schooner Thirte, of Biloxi, Miss., is in the county jail here as the result of a brush with the coast guard cutter Cygan, off the Florida reefs, near Zombrero Light, last Monday. The commander of the cutter found 100 cases of liquor aboard the schooner.

The Cygan was cruising off the reef when the schooner was sighted. The Thirte fled and stood in over the reef, where the shallow water would not permit the cutter to follow.

A blank shot caused the schooner to come about and, as it did so, it rounded. The vessel was towed to Key West, the liquor turned over to the revenue authorities, and the crew of four men jailed.

BRITISH CALL EXPECTED FOR MEETING TO LIMIT ARMS

Demand of Smuts and Hughes for Invitation to America and Japan to Take Part Likely to Be Favorably Acted Upon by Imperial Conference.

DEFENSE PROPOSALS MAY BE POSTPONED

British Said to View With Much Alarm Possibility of a "Race War" in the Pacific, With India Strongly in Mind.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, June 23.—Following the appeals made to the British imperial conference Tuesday by Premier Smuts of South Africa and Hughes of Australia in favor of inviting America and Japan to a conference looking to a limitation of naval armaments, the correspondence has been informed that the imperial conference, with full support of the British Government, will most probably take such action.

In support of this prediction, a man close to the Government said yesterday: "In view of the great probability of an Anglo-American-Japanese conference on disarmament, as a preliminary to a world conference on the subject, it has become advisable that the consideration of defense proposals already before the imperial conference should be postponed until the next meeting of that body. This, according to the present arrangements, will be held next year."

Probability of Conference. Recalling the probability of a naval armaments conference, the correspondent's informant frankly said the British Government is viewing with the greatest alarm any possibility of a "race war" in the Pacific—that is, a war between the white and black or white and yellow races.

In the first place, he pointed out, in the event of an American-Japanese war, the British, if they renewed the Japanese alliance, while they would be neutral, would still be placed in an embarrassing position because the sympathies of the dominions, it is admitted, would be openly with the United States.

On the other hand, it is also admitted British neutrality in such an event might displease India, which, especially if Japan were severely defeated, might find its sympathies dangerously aroused in favor of the Asiatic combatants.

Look Favorably Toward Action. For these reasons, then, aside from the pressing need for economy and a general desire for disarmament in the interest of world peace, the British are said to look most favorably upon a conference. As to the possibility of such a meeting in the near future, it is hoped that, although the American Government may not now feel in a position to initiate it, the United States would gladly accept an invitation to attend the conversation, especially if the request came not only from the home government, but, as Gen. Smuts advocated, from the dominions as well.

Although the British Government has been as silent as the Washington administration regarding reports of existing informal conversations on the question, there is the best reason for believing Ambassador Harvey has been discussing the matter with officials here.

ROW IN MILK FIRM OVER STOPPING OF 2000 PCT. DIVIDEND

Mrs. Louisa Wildt, Asking for Receiver, Tells How Helvetia Company's Stock Jumped to $10,000 a Share

INTERNAL COMPETING CONCERN ALLEGED

Stockholders Assert Officials Managed Business of Parent Firm for Benefit of Highland Company.

Officers of the Helvetia Milk Condensing Co., with offices in the Arcade Building, are charged in a petition for an accounting and the appointment of a receiver, filed in the United States District Court by Mrs. Louisa Wildt of Manchester, Vt., formerly of St. Louis, with having formed and conducted the Highland Milk Condensing Co. as an internal competing corporation for the purpose of milking the parent corporation and enriching themselves and relatives at the cost of minority stockholders of the Helvetia company.

Mrs. Wildt is the widow of John Wildt, one of the founders of the Helvetia company. Her petition discloses details of the past success of the Helvetia company from an inconspicuous beginning at Highland, Ill., stock of which is now unobtainable at $10,000 a share and which has paid dividends as high as 2000 per cent a year.

As a result of the organization of the Highland Milk Condensing Co., it is alleged, no dividends have been paid on Helvetia stock since January, 1920, whereas Highland stock, following division of large sums to it from the Helvetia company, paid 30 per cent last year.

A suit making the same charges has been filed at Edwardsville, Ill., by another Helvetia stockholder, Timothy McJannet of Oak Park, Chicago.

The Helvetia Milk Condensing Co. is an Illinois corporation, formed in 1905 to succeed the company of the same name, whose original in corporation in 1885 expired by limitation. The capital stock then and now consists of 500 shares of a par value of $100. It has never been changed.

Rival Company Started.

Many years ago trouble developed in the company and John Wildt, one of the founders, withdrew from active participation and went to Marysville, O., where he started a rival company, now grown to large proportions.

When Wildt died efforts were made to take over his 190 shares of stock, but his widow clung to them and had numerous suits with the estate of her husband. She removed to St. Louis when the Illinois Assessor began to inquire about a $190,000 dividend on her 190 shares of stock. Later she became a resident of Vermont.

Mrs. Wildt declares that she is now owner of 176 shares of stock in the Helvetia Milk Condensing Co. She says that in April, 1920, the market value of this stock was greatly in excess of $10,000 per share, that large dividends had been paid on this stock, the dividends amounting in 1917 to 2000 per cent, and that since January, 1920, no dividends of any kind have been paid.

It is alleged in the bill that "subsequent to the 31st day of December, 1918, the defendants (Louis Latzer, John A. Latzer, William K. Kaeser, Adolph Meyer and William T. Nardin), officers of the defendant corporation, published a financial statement showing assets of the company aggregating net $4,000,000, and actual cash in bank of $200,000, after paying the dividends during the year of $400,000.

The statement subsequent to Dec. 31, 1919, showed net assets of $6,400,000 and cash in bank, $750,000.

The statement subsequent to Dec. 31, 1920, showed net assets of $4,500,000, and cash in bank of $575,000.

This statement, however, breaking the precedent of a long line of unbroken successes, showed an apparent net loss for the year of $400,000, although it asserts that the sales of the year amounted to $18,606,693.13.

The majority of the stock in the Helvetia company has always been owned by a few families, and the petition asserts that in November, 1911, Louis Latzer, John A. Latzer, William K. Kaeser and Adolph Meyer formed under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania the Highland Milk Condensing Co. The stock, it is shown, was issued in the names of members of their families. As the Helvetia Milk Condensing Co., with main offices at Highland, Ill., had manufactured for years the "Highland Brand" of evaporated milk, the plaintiff declares the new company a distinct infringement on the established rights of the old one.

The by-laws of the Helvetia prohibit any director or any member of his family from being interested in any other milk concern, and the directors before entering upon their duties of office are required to take an oath to that effect.

The Highland company started business by erecting a plant only a few miles from an established one

CITY'S ENGINEERS APPROVE LINDELL TRAFFIC CIRCLE

Plan for Park Entrance Will Go to Aldermen Tomorrow and Hearings Will Be Held During Vacation.

The Board of Aldermen will receive tomorrow the bill, approved yesterday by the Board of Public Service, providing for a traffic circle, or circus, at the Lindell boulevard entrance of Forest Park.

The plan, which originated with the City Plan Commission, has now the endorsement of the city's engineering experts, who constitute the Board of Public Service, the technical division of the city government. It probably will be referred to a committee of the Board of Aldermen, and public hearings to give expression to contrary opinions will be held on it this summer, so that the legislative decision can be made soon after the summer vacation.

Diameter of 330 Feet.

The plan is for a circular parking space of 240 feet in diameter, including sidewalk, to be surrounded by a 45-foot driveway, which will make the diameter of the entire circle, or circus, 330 feet.

It has been estimated that 23,450 square feet of ground would have to be taken from the private property on three adjoining corners, besides the land to be taken from the lot. The deepest cut into any lot, it is figured, would be 90 feet. The cost of the condemned property to the city has been estimated to exceed $100,000.

The principal objection has been raised in connection with the cut in the Bikby lot, at the northeast corner of Lindell boulevard and King's highway. Charles Ullman, promoter of a plan for a hotel on that site, has said the plan could not be carried out if the lot is cut in the manner proposed.

The Municipal Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the circle plan.

At a hearing before the Board of Public Service it was stated that the Real Estate Exchange favored plans for beautifying the city and relieving traffic congestion, but that because of the property questions involved, the exchange has deferred any positive endorsement of the plan.

Workmen Opposed Plan.

Representatives of the Building Trades Council expressed opposition to the plan, on the ground that it would interfere with construction of the proposed hotel, which they wish to encourage.

John H. Rudiach, advocate of the circle plan, said that he favors a circular entrance to the park, but would like to see the of the Helvetia company in Pennsylvania.

It is declared by the plaintiff that when inquiries for large orders came to the office of the Helvetia company they were referred to the Highland company, which filled them without any effort.

The plaintiff charges that the defendant officers have been managing the Helvetia company in the interest of the Highland company. She mentions that while the main plant of the Helvetia at Highland was leased a few months ago to the St. Louis Dairy Co. for $7500 a year, the Helvetia has leased four plants from the Highland, none of them as large and one only under construction, at an annual rental of $40,000 each. While the annual rental on these plants aggregated $160,000, it is pointed out that there is an option whereby they may be purchased by the Helvetia for $800,000.

Another clause provides that the Highland company's entire liabilities, including all taxes and assessments, and all legal claims and demands except income and excess profits taxes, shall be assumed by the Helvetia company.

Wasting of Dividends Alleged.

The defendants are accused of "fraudulent mismanagement of the company's business in voting themselves salaries out of proportion to the services rendered for same; that they were guilty of acts of misfeasance and malfeasance in office; that by withholding dividends and wasting and dissipating the assets of the defendant corporation for their own benefit, the defendant directors and the majority stockholders of the defendant corporation have endeavored to compel your orator and other minority stockholders to sell and dispose of the stock they held, in order that they, the defendants, and the majority stockholders, might acquire the same at much less than its true and real value."

4511 Shares Owned by Majority.

Mrs. Wildt alleges that of the 5100 shares of Highland stock 4511 shares are owned by majority stockholders of the Helvetia company and their relatives, and that the payment of money to the Highland company and absorption of its losses by the Helvetia company have been for the benefit of the Helvetia majority stockholders and to the injury of the minority stockholders.

She charges that after she had hired Nardin to keep her informed of what was going on in the Helvetia organization, and had given him two shares of stock to enable him to qualify as a director, he participated in the Highland negotiations with the Helvetia company, and was paid during the period $25,000 a year salary and a percentage of profits by the other defendants.

Officers Removed to St. Louis.

The general offices of the company were until recently at Highland. The offices and the Highland plant were removed to St. Louis recently on account of asperities which developed over shipments of surplus milk to St. Louis last fall during the milk producers' strike.

Adolph Meyer, secretary of the Helvetia company, declined to make a statement about the suits, but re-

Statue of Chouteau Proposed for Center of Traffic Circle

A PLAN for erecting a statue of Auguste Chouteau, stepson and companion of Pierre Laclede, founder of St. Louis, in the proposed Lindell entrance traffic circle, was announced yesterday by Henri Chouteau of 26 Vandeventer, planter.

Chouteau said he and a number of friends were willing to spend $20,000 to $30,000 for such a memorial. Among his friends he mentioned August A. Busch Jr., H. C. Dyer and the present Auguste Chouteau.

He said the statue would represent Chouteau as a youth, at the time when he accompanied Laclede to the site of St. Louis, arriving here in February, 1764.

He said the sculptor might include Indian figures, or that these might be shown on the base of the monument. The statue would stand in the City Hall Park.

Chairman Russell of the City Plan Commission said the matter should be taken up with the Board of Public Service and with the Municipal Art Commission, and that it would be proper to use it as an argument for the traffic circle plan when a hearing is held on the measure by a committee of the Board of Aldermen.

Angles made less sharp than they are in the compass of the plan.

Opponents of the measure contend that the traffic conditions at the park entrance do not require a new arrangement, and Ullman, at the hearing, cited a traffic count which he had taken. He said there was more traffic on King's highway and Delmar boulevard, than at the park entrance.

Arguments for and against the improvement will be presented to the Aldermen later. If the measure is enacted, and signed by the Mayor, its opponents will have the opportunity to invoke the referendum against it, as was done in the case of the proposed parkway.

ferred a reporter to former United States Senator Xenophon P. Willey, attorney for the company. Willey said the Highland company was not organized by members of the Helvetia organization, but was purchased because it was thought to be a valuable acquisition, which it has proven to be. The failure of the Helvetia company to pay a dividend last year, he said, was due to a temporary slump in the milk business.

TERMINATION OF PRISON TO BE ASKED FOR MRS. ORTHWEIN

"But Mr. Ziegler was drunk earlier in the evening," yes, but not ugly. He was only ugly when someone crossed him."

Following Mrs. Orthwein's collapse yesterday as she attempted to demonstrate the failure of the case, her attorneys offered to give the case to the jury at once without argument, but the State's attorney objected.

The revolver which the State contends is the weapon with which she shot Ziegler, fell from Mrs. Orthwein's hand with a clatter as she sat on the witness stand.

The defendant told yesterday of quarrels with Ziegler, in which she testified that he, when drunk, frequently beat her.

Former Railroad Agent Dies.

Austin Louis Pollard, 61 years old, of 844 Bell avenue, died at his home at 11:30 a. m. today from anemia, following an illness of four months. He had spent 40 years in the service of the Mobile & Ohio Railroad Co., and in recent years had been local freight agent at East St. Louis. The funeral will be held under the auspices of the Masonic order, Pollard having been a past master of Aurora Lodge. He is survived by his widow and a daughter, Miss Margaret Pollard.

4511 Shares Owned by Majority.

Mrs. Wildt alleges that of the 5100 shares of Highland stock 4511 shares are owned by majority stockholders of the Helvetia company and their relatives, and that the payment of money to the Highland company and absorption of its losses by the Helvetia company have been for the benefit of the Helvetia majority stockholders and to the injury of the minority stockholders.

CALL FOR MEN TO SERVE WITH NO PAY ON BUDGET STAFF

Dawes Announces Plan to Ask Business Leaders to Aid Country, Under Big Burden.

WANTS TWO OFFICERS WITH HIM IN FRANCE

Will Call Big Men of Commerce to Conference—Says Law Provides "Pitiful Machinery."

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, chosen by President Harding to head the new Government budget system, announced, after a conference with the President today, that he would call on a number of experienced business men to serve in the Budget Bureau in Gen. Pershing's place, because he considered the staff provided by Congress wholly inadequate.

Dawes declared in a statement that, if the budget system was to be a success, reliance must be placed on "something else than the pitiful machinery provided by law."

"One might as well be handed a toothpick with which to tunnel Pike's Peak," he said.

"It is evident that if this, the greatest business crisis which our Government has ever confronted, is to be properly met, chief reliance will have to be placed upon something else than the pitiful machinery provided by law with which to exercise the wide powers extended to the Budget Bureau."

"I am, therefore, accepting the position of Director of the Budget only with the idea that the patriotic business men of the country as a whole can be so aroused in this emergency that it will be met as was the emergency of war four years ago."

Business bureau chiefs of the departments and the leading business men of the country respond to the call of the President as they did four years ago, the situation is hopeless so far as any material relief for two years is concerned from this source.

Organization Plan.

"My plan is this: I propose to organize my office so far as I can go under the law as quickly as possible after selecting the one or two men of the law presumes me capable of passing. The first of these will be my business assistant, William T. Abbott, who, as acting assistant director, will for a few months aid me in the organization of the work, pending the selection of a permanent assistant director. Besides, I shall ask the War Department for the detail of two great co-ordinators, General George Van Horn Moseley, former assistant chief of staff in Gen. Pershing's army, and Col. Henry Smith, former assistant chief of staff in the Service of Supply. Both were associated with Dawes in France during the war."

Dawes' Statement.

Dawes' statement said in part: "We all know the desperate condition of the business of the country at present—industrial, agricultural and commercial—and that it is staggering under a tremendous burden of taxation from which it must be relieved if it is to revive properly."

"Congress has passed the budget laws in order to give the President the machinery with which to secure the accomplishment of this work by direct reform of Government business administration and save taxes."

"Let us see what Congress has done to give the director of the budget the machinery to attempt this colossal task. He is given an appropriation of $225,000 for expenses and employees and an assistant in each department appointed by the Cabinet member. But from the $225,000 appropriation, besides the assistant director of the budget, he can employ for this stupendous work only four men of his own selection at not over $6000 each. For the rest of his force he is compelled to take his chance on men to be certified to him by the Civil Service Commission."

"Pitiful Machinery."

"One might as well be handed a toothpick with which to tunnel Pike's Peak."

"It is evident that if this, the greatest business crisis which our Government has ever confronted, is to be properly met, chief reliance will have to be placed upon something else than the pitiful machinery provided by law with which to exercise the wide powers extended to the Budget Bureau."

"I am, therefore, accepting the position of Director of the Budget only with the idea that the patriotic business men of the country as a whole can be so aroused in this emergency that it will be met as was the emergency of war four years ago."

Business bureau chiefs of the departments and the leading business men of the country respond to the call of the President as they did four years ago, the situation is hopeless so far as any material relief for two years is concerned from this source.

Organization Plan.

"My plan is this: I propose to organize my office so far as I can go under the law as quickly as possible after selecting the one or two men of the law presumes me capable of passing. The first of these will be my business assistant, William T. Abbott, who, as acting assistant director, will for a few months aid me in the organization of the work, pending the selection of a permanent assistant director. ### MORE CHARGES DISABLED SERVICE MEN ARE ILL-TREATED

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Further charges that former service men are improperly cared for and even ill-treated at Government and contract hospitals were made yesterday before the Senate special committee investigating agencies having the hospitalization program in charge. The committee withheld the name of the witness, a tubercular patient, who developed the disease in the army following influenza.

The witness testified he received no compensation for six months after filing his claim, although prevented by hemorrhages from following the physical work in which he formerly was engaged. Regarding hospitals at Greenville, S. C.; Liberty, N. Y.; Phoenix, Tucson and Prescott, Ariz.; Los Angeles and Monrovia, Cal., the witness charged that facilities for the proper treatment of tubercular patients were inadequate, the physicians and nurses unsympathetic and in many instances inefficient, the food poor and conditions insanitary.

He told of a contract physician in California who upon payment by patients of $30 a month in addition to the allowance made him by the Government, gave proper private treatment to patients, but who otherwise placed the men in a boarding house, where he paid $12 a week for each patient, collecting from the Government $24.65 for each.

Former service men under hospital treatment are afraid to complain, the witness stated, because if they do they will either be compelled to leave the hospital or be classified as mental patients and be sent to an insane asylum.

71,952 JAPANESE IN CALIFORNIA IN 1920 AND 41,356 IN 1910

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—California's Japanese population in 1920 was 71,952, as against 41,356 in 1910, according to census figures made public today. The State also contained 38,762 negroes, 17,360 Indians, 28,812 Chinese and 5263 of other races in that year, in addition to its 2,264,711 whites. During the preceding decade the white population increased 44.5 per cent.

Reports from two city laboratories

It was not an agreeable task, one that the child's own mother had shrunk from, but the nurse's mission was not ended here. It was her duty to impress upon the mother what apparently she had told her many times before, that through an inherited infection the child's eyes were afflicted with the disease that meant total and permanent blindness unless properly treated at once.

With a Municipal Nurse on Her Daily Round in Health Service

First Few Visits Show Work of Health Authorities to Save Babies Is Effective in Spite of Neglect and Opposition of Some Parents.

By MARGUERITE MARTIN.

THE Weather Man said the mercury did not ascend above 92 that day at his observatory high above the city streets, but on Fairfax avenue, as the Municipal Visiting Nurse and I picked our way through the deep dust and over the scarred surface of that forgotten thoroughfare, and paused at the address indicated by her index card, I am sure it was hotter than the Weather Man knew.

The nurse was apologetic for introducing me to her work by way of this distressing case, but it was the one most urgently in need of her attention this morning. We mounted a narrow flight of steps to a doorway whose outside knob had been removed and whose pane of opaque glass were covered with an iron screen such as is used in jails.

"If she can see through this glass, she probably will not let us in," remarked the nurse.

The door did open a crack presently and we quickly entered. Out of the darkness of the room, upon a quilt on the floor, there gradually emerged to view a small object which proved to be a negro infant three months old. The nurse dropped on her knees beside it.

"How long since you put drops in the baby's eyes?" asked the nurse. "Ma'am?" responded the mother. "Why, just a little while ago."

"Now, that couldn't be," said the nurse, "for the eyelids are tightly stuck together. I do not believe they have been open since I washed them yesterday."

Was Out of Boreac Acid.
"Well, you see, I was out of boreac acid and I couldn't go to the drug store because I didn't have anybody to leave him with."

The eyewash was quickly supplied and the nurse proceeded to apply it by means of the dropper, unheeding of the protests of the infant—who, though his eyes were weak, his lungs were strong, it would have been no different if he had been a little black bearded of eyes looked forth, bright and much interested in its surroundings.

It was not an agreeable task, one that the child's own mother had shrunk from, but the nurse's mission was not ended here. It was her duty to impress upon the mother what apparently she had told her many times before, that through an inherited infection the child's eyes were afflicted with the disease that meant total and permanent blindness unless properly treated at once.

Reports from two city laboratories

It was not an agreeable task, one that the child's own mother had shrunk from, but the nurse's mission was not ended here. It was her duty to impress upon the mother what apparently she had told her many times before, that through an inherited infection the child's eyes were afflicted with the disease that meant total and permanent blindness unless properly treated at once.

had made this fact indisputable. Why had not the child been taken to the eye clinic at Washington University? Why had the child's father made the assertion yesterday that he had taken the baby to the clinic when the investigation revealed he had not? It would only cost 14 cents care for this treatment. Did the parents want the child to grow up to be a life-long dependent upon them or public charity?

Lame excuses from the mother were cut short by the ultimatum the nurse had come to deliver. There were legal processes by which neglectful parents could be brought to account. These parents would be given one more chance before the law was invoked and the child would be taken in hand by the Juvenile Court.

Proud of Following Instructions.
The next case, on the same street, was one upon which I was warned. I was not to waste sympathy, but rejoice, for, though the big-eyed, intelligent-looking infant was undersize and underweight for its age, it was a most hopeful case. It had been afflicted with pyloric stenosis, had had spasms and all but starved, but through faithful attendance at the clinic and scientific treatment, the malformation was being corrected, and soon it would be in a fair way to rival its lusty brothers and sisters. It was being cared for by its grandmother while the parents were out working, and she beamed gratitude upon the nurse and O, so proudly answered in the affirmative when asked if she was following out all the instructions.

At the next place we encountered a different kind of a grandmother. In the kitchen a young colored woman, with peculiar hot irons, was engaged in that operation so popular now, upon the hair of another colored woman. The hair on one side of the head was smooth and glossy.

The question, "Why haven't you brought your baby to the clinic recently?" was being replied to with the usual excuses, when the mother was interrupted by a voice from the back porch. Out there the grandmother was bouncing on her knees the fretful infant, lying on its stomach.

"Just Summer Complaint." "It's just a little summer complaint," said the grandmother. "I had 20 children and I never had a doctor with none of them. It's all nonsense the way these younger women have to run to the doctor about every little thing."

"How many of your 20 children grew up?" asked the nurse. "I raised 19 of 'em," responded the grandmother. "And now the girls all think they're sickly. And why? 'Cause they don't have enough to do. Why, I used to wash all day and then carry a bundle on my head up a flight of steps a mile long. Girls nowadays don't think of nothin' but going to parties and shows. If they'd go to church and listen to the word of God!"

The nurse, meanwhile, despite the harangue, was imparting a few pertinent instructions to the mother. "Our records show that the baby is now 6 months old. It should be weighed and examined by the doctor and it is time some change was being made in its diet. It should be getting a cereal and some green vegetables with mineral properties to avoid the possibility of rickets. You bring it to the clinic tomorrow and in the meantime, for this present ailment, it should be given no food except a little water for 12 hours."

This announcement was greeted with a renewed outburst from the back porch and the colored woman whose coiffure had been left still in a state of bushiness, cut in impatiently to announce that she had a pressing engagement. But the young mother, speaking firmly to both interrupters, said: "Just be-still, will you? I am getting some information from the nurse about my baby." And she promised to bring the child to the clinic next morning.

Indications of Rickets.
There were other visits for the purpose of inquiring why other infants, arriving at the age where a change of diet was in order, had not been brought to the clinic. Several already had developed pronounced indications of rickets. Even one unusually fat baby revealed the tell-tale enlarged wrist and ankle joints, the "rosary" on the chest and soft frontal bone. "What makes her so fat?" its caretaker was asked. "Because she likes to chew bacon rind," was the response.

Still in the black belt, but over on a wide street which had recently been given way to the colored invasion, the nurse wanted to show some "constructive" cases to offset the less hopeful ones we had seen. Here, in a handsome house, a tall, dusky matron of Amazonian proportions was dressing, to go out, she said, to serve on a committee which was to select a silver service for the church organist, who was to be married at a "fashionable church wedding" Sunday afternoon. The bride, we were told, owns two fine residences on Lindell boulevard which are let to whites, and two apartment houses farther downtown.

The mother displayed her only child, a miniature Jack Johnson, well agreed, and with pride put him through his calisthenic exercises. He had just had his daily bath and was about to have his daily nap. The mother had all the pitter of the clinic, especially the large mouth-filling scientific terms relating to food properties and children's diseases at her tongue's end. She seemed as well versed in child hygiene as any modern mother of the day.

Work in White Section.
Another piece of constructive work, in the white section of the district, was a pair of twins who shortly will be 2 years old and then will be graduated at one of the ceremonies at which children who have been faithful attendants and carried out instructions of the health center, are given diplomas and graded according to their health standing.

A handsome pair of boys, they were like all two-year-olds, with heads covered with ringlets of gold, both beautifully formed, both lying in identical positions, flat on their stomachs, nude, and sleeping soundly on a pallet in a darkened but ventilated room.

Some of the mothers, having every reason to be proud of their offspring's physical appearance, were impatient to get back to their households, but they knew they might as well wait for the examination, for the penalty of once enrolling at the clinic is that ever afterward you must report at stated intervals or have the nurse coming to inquire the reason why.

Other mothers waited patiently and pulled long faces as they approached the doctor. The mother's face, the doctor said, is always an accurate barometer of the baby's state of health.

9186 Children Enrolled.
The municipal nurse, as has been shown, spends half her day in the field and half in the clinic. Besides hunting up delinquents, they do bedside nursing and much pre-natal work. There are at present 9186 children, 2349 tuberculosis patients and 231 pre-natal cases enrolled in all the city health centers. There are 26 nurses, including the supervisors, of whom Miss Grace Anderson is chief. The staff has not as yet been reduced, as was threatened within the recent wave of economy at the city hall, since the Tuberculosis Society has guaranteed and undertaken to raise by subscription the $3600 needed to retain the three nurses who were about to be dispensed with. The municipal nurse receives per month $100, $110 or $120, according to her years of service. Each must be a graduate nurse besides being a graduate in public health work. The nurses' greater usefulness obviously is in the apprehending and prevention of diseases, than which surely there is no greater service to the community at large.

Anyone who entertains any idea that the nurse's job is a political sinecure, I advise to accompany one of them over her rounds on a hot morning in June—or a cold one in January, as you please.

Praised Public Health Service.
There was no end to the mother's praise of the public health clinic. Twins had seemed rather overwhelming at first to a young couple without much means, but there never had been a doctor's bill to pay since they were born; in fact, they never had, thanks to the nurses and the doctors at the clinic. And all since their birth, this grateful mother said.

The last place visited was a household in which three wards of the Board of Children's Guardians are boarded. Standing in her crib, making every effort the vocabulary of 1 year old was capable of to attract our attention, was the jolliest, liveliest, reddest-haired young person we had yet encountered. Marie was 1 year old that very day and, being weighed, tipped the beam at 20 pounds, whereas upon her arrival in this household at the age of 3 months she had weighed only a pitiable little 7 pounds. Moreover, on her tender body there actually were indications that she had been the victim of blows.

The foster mother became a faithful attendant at the clinic and Marie responded so gratifyingly and developed such irresistible charms and so attached herself to the family that now her foster parents declare they will legally adopt her. It is a modest little home, but a thrifty one. There are 600 chickens in the back yard and a vegetable garden extends to the very front gate. So, one does not wonder that Marie, coming her wholly fortuitous advantages, is said to be the jolliest, liveliest, friendliest of all the clinic babies.

It was now afternoon and the nurse had to return to assist the doctor at the tuberculosis clinic at 3 o'clock.

We had been visiting in the district of which the Easton avenue clinic at 4315 Easton avenue is the health center, where 690 babies and 168 tuberculosis cases are enrolled. It is one of 13 such health centers maintained by the city.

Mostly "Follow-Up" Cases.
The tuberculosis patients this afternoon were mostly "follow-up" cases, suspected of infection from having been exposed to it by some member of the family. There were 20 patients and Dr. R. E. Byrnes, the physician in charge, made the various tests for the discovery of the dread germ. At the baby clinic next morning among the 60 mothers with their babies were to be recognized most of the subjects of the nurse's admonitions the day before. Dr. Maurice Lonsway was the baby expert in charge and the three nurses attached to this center were kept busy undressing the babies, weighing them, making records and explaining to the mothers the diet lists and preparation of food formula prescribed by the physician.

Some of the mothers, having every reason to be proud of their offspring's physical appearance, were impatient to get back to their households, but they knew they might as well wait for the examination, for the penalty of once enrolling at the clinic is that ever afterward you must report at stated intervals or have the nurse coming to inquire the reason why.

Other mothers waited patiently and pulled long faces as they approached the doctor. The mother's face, the doctor said, is always an accurate barometer of the baby's state of health.

9186 Children Enrolled.
The municipal nurse, as has been shown, spends half her day in the field and half in the clinic. Besides hunting up delinquents, they do bedside nursing and much pre-natal work. There are at present 9186 children, 2349 tuberculosis patients and 231 pre-natal cases enrolled in all the city health centers. There are 26 nurses, including the supervisors, of whom Miss Grace Anderson is chief. The staff has not as yet been reduced, as was threatened within the recent wave of economy at the city hall, since the Tuberculosis Society has guaranteed and undertaken to raise by subscription the $3600 needed to retain the three nurses who were about to be dispensed with. The municipal nurse receives per month $100, $110 or $120, according to her years of service. Each must be a graduate nurse besides being a graduate in public health work. The nurses' greater usefulness obviously is in the apprehending and prevention of diseases, than which surely there is no greater service to the community at large.

Anyone who entertains any idea that the nurse's job is a political sinecure, I advise to accompany one of them over her rounds on a hot morning in June—or a cold one in January, as you please.

Praised Public Health Service.
There was no end to the mother's praise of the public health clinic. Twins had seemed rather overwhelming at first to a young couple without much means, but there never had been a doctor's bill to pay since they were born; in fact, they never had, thanks to the nurses and the doctors at the clinic. ## BELLA PONTIAC, WORLD'S RECORD COW, PRODUCES 27,017 POUNDS OF MILK

BRANTFORD, Ontario, June 23.

By the Associated Press.
Bella Pontiac, the world's record cow, owned by T. A. Barron of Brantford, has set a new record.

Figures made public today by James Wilson, supervisor of the official test of the Holstein Friesian Association, showed that for the fiscal year ending June 16 Bella Pontiac produced—milk, 27,017 pounds; fat, 1259 pounds, and butter, 1573.75 pounds.

Wilson said these figures were far in excess of any previous record.

GRAND JURY TAKES UP XENIA BANKER'S TRANSACTIONS HERE

Asher R. Cox Said to Have Obtained $19,800 of Collateral Pledged on $35,000 Loan.

The St. Louis Grand Jury has heard testimony, in the last few days, regarding transactions between Asher R. Cox, president of the Orchard City Bank of Xenia, Ill., and the Liberty Central Trust Co. of St. Louis.

It could not be learned, by inquiry at the Circuit Attorney's office this afternoon, whether the Grand Jury had taken any action in the case. Cox's present whereabouts are not known, according to officers of the Liberty Central Trust Co. The Orchard City Bank of Xenia was closed one month ago by Illinois State bank examiners.

By inquiry at the trust company, it was learned that the Orchard City Bank, eight months ago, obtained a loan of $35,000 from the Central National Bank, which has since merged with the Liberty Bank, forming the Liberty Central Trust Co. As collateral, it was stated, notes for $43,000, purporting to be signed by citizens of Xenia, were given. May 16, it was said, Cox obtained $19,800 of this collateral, saying he would replace it with other notes. The bank has a receipt for the notes taken, but the notes promised were not furnished. The Orchard City Bank has $13,000 on deposit in the Liberty Central, and this has been applied to the loan.

A. M. Kingsbury, cashier of the Liberty Central, testified before the Grand Jury three weeks ago. Joseph Ohlman and William Beard of Xenia were witnesses before the Grand Jury yesterday. Afterward they told officers of the Liberty Central that the signatures on notes for $4100 among the notes pledged for the Orchard City Bank's loan were not theirs.

Child Falls 20 Feet From Window.
James Egbert, 4 years old, of 4043A Lexington avenue, suffered two fractured ribs and internal injuries yesterday when he fell 20 feet out of a second-story window of his home to the sidewalk. Mrs. Lula Egbert, the mother, said she had left the boy playing in the kitchen while she was in another room at work. The boy climbed on a chair and opened a screen.

Cash In On Coolness

Many a business man who feels bound to keep his office or factory or store temperature around seventy degrees in winter has yet to realize that the comfort of his workers and customers is even more important in summer. Heat takes a greater yearly toll than cold.

Westinghouse

fans, therefore, are not merely a comfort, but a summer necessity, if the cash values in coolness are to be realized. Your store or restaurant or theatre will do more summer business if you keep it cool, particularly if you tell people about it. Similarly, offices and factories which are fan-cooled will turn out more work and better work. It seems to us that all this is just plain common sense.

You can get regular or special fans, Westinghouse-made, from any of the dealers listed.

7-YEAR SENTENCE FOR THIRD KROGER
ROBBER CONVICTED

Youth Found Guilty by Jury of Holdup in May, Being Identified as Thief With a Scar.

DISCREPANCIES IN ALIBI TESTIMONY

Two Other Youths Were Found Guilty Last Week
and Sentenced to Five Years Each.

The situation concerning Kroger grocery holdups has shifted. Until recently the holdup of a Kroger store was the subject of almost daily police reports, with no conviction of robbers to balance the record. There has been no Kroger robbery in the last few days, but, on the other hand, there have been three convictions by juries.

The latest conviction was that of Harry Hufendick, 19 years old, of 2544 Hebert street, who was found guilty yesterday afternoon by a jury in Circuit Judge Hartmann's court and sentenced to seven years in prison. A conspicuous scar on the left side of his face and a weak alibi were the chief contributing factors in Hufendick's undoing.

In the afternoon of May 13 three men entered the Kroger grocery at 1399 Burd avenue, while a fourth man remained in an automobile at the curb. One of the robbers held a handkerchief to his face as he pointed a revolver at the manager, Henry C. Shaffer of 1408 Temple place, and ordered him to throw up his hands.
The robbers took $25 from the cash register.

"I couldn't forget that man's face," said Shaffer yesterday, in relating the holdup to the jury. "He held his revolver close to his hip and the manner in which he held the handkerchief in his left hand indicated to me that he was trying to conceal only the left side of his face. I watched him intently. As he was leaving the store he lowered the handkerchief in his left hand and I saw the scar. I mentioned that scar when I reported the robbery to the police."

Hufendick was arrested several hours after the robbery in a poolroom and barber shop at 3301 North Nineteenth street. Police officers refused that they found two loaded revolvers beneath a table in the poolroom. Several friends of Hufendick, including the proprietor of the poolroom, William Deibel, testified that he was in and about the poolroom the afternoon of the robbery.
One of the alibi witnesses testified that Hufendick was at the poolroom all of the day preceding the afternoon of the robbery. Assistant Clerk Attorney Johnson called the jury's attention to the discrepancy and said that it created a doubt as to the genuineness of the alibi.

Two Convicted Last Week.
Last Thursday James Casey, 13 years old, of 27 Howard street, and Leo Barkowski, 19, of 1533 North Seventeenth street, were found guilty of having robbed the Kroger store at 1524 North Market street on Feb. 9, taking $12.65 from the cash register, and each was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

Charging Grand Larceny Against Former Alamac Employee.

Circulars offering a reward for the arrest of Hugh L. Byrne, 35 years old, clerk at the Alamac Hotel, Fourteenth and Chestnut streets, were sent out by the police yesterday following Byrne's disappearance last Friday simultaneously with the disappearance of $1400 which had been given him to put in the safe for the night by a guest at the hotel, Louis Herman. An indictment charging grand larceny has been voted by the Grand Jury in the case, and the reward is offered by Edward Miller, manager of the hotel, who made good
the loss to the guest.

You Will Never Buy Such Clothes for Less

A broad assertion, we admit—but we happen to know conditions in the clothing business. As you know, Bond's is primarily an organization of manufacturers—and we are thus able to keep pretty closely in touch with what is going on. That's why we say there is hardly a possibility of buying such clothes as Bond's for less than Bond's present sale price.

Bond's Clothes Are Real Quality Clothes

Judged on price alone, you may gain a wrong impression of Bond's Clothes. True our regular price is very much lower than the ordinary retailer quotes—but this isn't because of any lack of real quality; far from it. Bond's Clothes always sell for less because it costs us less to sell them. Simple, but effective.

We reach the consumer through twelve outlet stations. There's the least "lost motion" this way—no doubt about that. Naturally our lower price means a very big business, and we must keep this volume up, come what may. To eliminate any possibility of "dull days" we have deliberately cut our price.

Tailored just as carefully as Bond's three-piece Suits—and tailor-

Bond's featherweight Suits are wonderfully well styled, too. That comes from keeping in touch with "what's what" and producing

WOMEN TO DEMAND A 20TH AMENDMENT

Woman's National Party Wants All Legal Discrimination Against Sex Eliminated.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 22.—Announcement has been made officially at a meeting of the reorganized Woman's National party that a resolution soon will be introduced in both Houses of Congress embodying a twentieth amendment to the Federal Constitution. The amendment will be designed to do away with
"all legal discrimination against women," according to Miss Maude Younger, newly-appointed legislative chairman of the party.
As tentatively drawn, the amendment reads:
"Equal rights with men shall not be denied to women, or abridged on account of sex or marriage, by the United States or by any state or territory subject to the jurisdiction of the United States."
At the same time, Miss Younger said, plans will be laid to put before the 45 State Legislatures an identical bill designed to prevent through state enactment like discrimination.

COLLECTION FOR CHINA CEASES

Contributions in State for Famine Sufferers Exceed $100,000.
In accordance with advice from the American Committee for the China Famine Fund, based on late cablegrams from China, the organized work for the fund in Missouri, as in other states, is to be discontinued immediately. The St. Louis office will be closed and no further campaigns in the State will be begun, though the treasurer of the fund, W. Palmer Clarkson, 511 Locust street, will continue as such until full collections on pledges have been made and scattering contributions are all in.
George W. Hunter, secretary of the St. Louis committee, states that St. Louis and Missouri have contributed upward of $150,000, which does not include sums sent through the various denominational agencies and boards. The total from Missouri for the China relief cause, he said, would exceed $100,000.

U. S. NOT INFORMED ON ANGLO-JAPANESE NEGOTIATIONS

State Department Issues Statement Concerning Report as to Its Information.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 23.—The State Department has issued a formal statement denying that it had been kept cognizant of the progress of the negotiations looking to a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty. The statement is as follows:

"In view of a dispatch of the Associated Press with respect to the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, published Wednesday morning, to the effect that 'it is understood that the State Department has been kept fully informed of the plans of the British Government and that it has been given assurance that in the renewal of the treaty every precaution will be taken to guard against the inclusion of anything inimical to American rights,' it is deemed proper to say that the State Department is not informed with respect to the plans of the British Government and has received no assurance in the matter. EAST SIDE RAILWAY
CUTS WAGE SCALE

Reduction From 70 to 51 Cents Per Hour for Motormen and Conductors Announced.

The East St. Louis Railway Co. yesterday notified employees that, beginning July 1, the scale of wages will be the same as was in effect in April, 1920, which means motormen and conductors will be reduced from 70 cents an hour to 51 cents. A reduction will also be made in the wages of shopmen, and laborers from 63 to 48 cents. The Belleville division also will be affected. The cut applies to about 500 employees.

The wage scale is usually arrived at through a board of arbitration, but the last board of arbitration which was selected to fix the scale of wages to be effective from May 1, 1921, has been estopped from action by an application for an injunction in the Federal Court, a temporary injunction having been granted. Judge English also ruled that no board of arbitration exists, inasmuch as the company is not represented on the board. C. E. Smith of St. Louis, who was the company's representative on the board, resigned before the board held a session.

Last April, the employees asked for an increase in wages to 90 cents an hour. The company countered with a proposition that a reasonable reduction in wages be made, but specified no figure.

President Sawyer of the street car company said that he sought to have the officers of the local joint in selecting a new board of arbitration inasmuch as the previous board was unable to settle the controversy by reason of the injunction. William O'Leary, president of Local No. 125, Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, of which the employees are members, said that he was unwilling to agree to Sawyer's request, as he believes the status of the previous board has not been determined.

The company's action in reducing wages to the scale effective prior to May 1, 1920, forms a basis on which to negotiate, as it is the first time that the company has made known what it regarded as a "reasonable reduction."

Last April the company notified the employees that the wage scale in effect in April, 1920, would be the basis of pay after May 1, pending the decision of the board of arbitration, but, by agreement, the company continued paying the wage in effect since May 1, 1920.

WILL RENAME HUMANE SOCIETY

City Marshal Anton Schuler said today that he would reappoint the Humane Society as custodian of the dog pound, and would recommend that donated dogs be housed elsewhere than at the pound.

This conclusion was reached, Schuler said, when he learned that the Humane Society had been charging a minimum of $3 for dogs brought to the pound by others than dog-catchers. The city ordinance provides that dogs brought in by dog-catchers may be redeemed by owners or purchased by reputable citizens for 75 cents. The donated dog does not come under this classification because it is one turned over to the Humane Society by an owner who no longer cares for it or by someone who has found it straying without a license. George Dieckman, president of the Humane Society, said that the $3 minimum had been fixed in order to discourage the purchase of dogs for vivisection purposes.

ONE-MAN HEARING ON WASTE CHARGE AT CITY DOCKS

E. W. Allen, Former Foreman, Only Witness at Aldermen's Inquiry Into Alleged Irregularities.

SAYS HE WAS PAID
WHILE CAMPAIGNING

Asserts That He Was Absent
for Several Days, but Can Give No Specific Data Requested.

The special investigating committee of the Board of Aldermen, appointed to consider charges of waste and irregularities in connection with the construction of the municipal docks at North Market street, will summon W. A. Smith, superintendent of construction of the docks, and will look up the payrolls of the work, following a hearing held last night.

The hearing was a one-man affair, with E. W. Allen of 2223 North Tenth street, a former foreman on the dock work, as the only witness.

Allen was discharged June 1, and a few days later the charges were presented to the Board of Aldermen and to the newspapers. They were made in the name of the Independent Voters' Organization of the Third Ward and the Women Voters' League of the same ward.

Only Two Others Appear.

It was stated at the time that the charges were approved at a largely attended meeting of the two Third Ward organizations. The only ones who appeared last night, besides Allen, were Jules Anderson, attorney for the organizations, and L. Thomas, secretary. Neither had any personal knowledge as to the charges.

The charges, which appeared in the form of questions, were that men carried on the city payroll were employed in painting private residences and private automobiles; that two carloads of lumber were dumped on a pile of hot cinders, and thus burned; that a carload of tools disappeared from the work; that men were carried on the payroll who were not working; that lighting cables were laid on private property from which they had to be removed at a loss to public funds, and that the dock cost more than $1,000,000 when the original bid for its construction was $294,000.

Definite Information Asked For.

Allen, when called to testify before the committee, seemed desirous of talking about the cost of the dock. The committee held that it could learn the cost from the records, and Allen was asked to tell about matters of his personal knowledge. He then recited the various charges, with some details, and with suggestions of names of men who might know about the matters. He gave last names, without addresses.

When he was pressed for definite information which could be substantiated by the committee, and when he was asked if he did not know the names of other witnesses, Allen exclaimed: "Well, I know my own name. I know I went to the Farmer-Labor convention, and was away from the work five days last summer, and that my pay went on just the same, though I was working on an hourly basis."

"I was the Farmer-Labor candidate for Congress in the Eleventh District, and I made a strenuous campaign, and was off one day a week for eight or ten weeks, and was paid just the same."

When asked why Smith finally discharged him, he said it was probably because of his activity in politics. In answer to questions, he said he "was out working hard for Kiel" in the last city campaign.

Hints at Intimidation.

When the committee inquired further as to names of other witnesses, Attorney Anderson said there had been other witnesses, but that they had obtained better jobs, or had perhaps been intimidated. He would not name any of these per-might have been placed on them. His answer to these questions was, "I am not in a position to say."

When asked about Mrs. Minnie Sperry, president of the women's organization, he said she had been intimidated, and that she had relatives in the city's employ.

Tells of Painting of Auto.

Allen said he saw one of the men employed on the dock engaged in painting Supt. Smith's automobile, which is Smith's privately owned car. Director Hooke of the Department of Public Utilities has said that Smith used his own car in connection with the city's work.

As to the burning of "two carloads" of lumber on a pile of ashes, Allen said he was ordered to unload the lumber, and that he called Smith's attention to the danger, but that Smith told him to go ahead. The next day, he said, the lumber was in ashes. He was asked whether any fire alarm was given, as would be expected in the case of the burning of so much lumber, and he said he did not know. The official version of this matter is that a few pieces of lumber were accidentally burned.

He told of being sent to Sublette avenue, to remove 3000 feet of cable, laid by mistake on private property. Alderman Watts, a member of the Inquiry Committee, who is a former Lighting Inspector, said he was informed that about 60 feet of cable had been laid in the wrong place, and that its removal was a matter of small cost.

was subsequently killed by falling from a pole.

Says Cement Was Damaged.
He told of the damaging of cement—2000 sacks, he declared—by the removal of a tarpaulin, exposing the cement to the weather. He was asked if, as foreman, he should not have covered the cement, and he said that was not his work. Watts asked him if it was not true that there was usually loss in cement construction, through damage by moisture.

Allen also told of the disappearance of tools, and was asked whether he knew that there was anything irregular about this, or whether the tools might have been taken to some other city work. Director Hooke has said that Allen probably referred to the tools taken from the dock to the Harlem Creek sewer job.

Charges Foreman Was Drunk.

He said one of the foremen was intoxicated on a Saturday afternoon, and that his men did not work that afternoon, but that they said afterward they were paid just the same. He asked the committee to look at the retaining wall of the dock, and at the trestle, which, he said, he was told was not satisfactory to the Terminal Railroad Association, so that the Terminal would not run its rolling stock upon it. The committee will probably follow this suggestion.

Alderman W. F. Niederluecke is chairman of the committee.

Children dearly love the delicious, "fruity" taste of genuine "California Syrup of Figs" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits. Mother, you must say "California." If you don't say "California" you may get an imitation fig syrup.

DRIVER HELD IN DEATH OF MAN HIT BY AUTO

Clerk Under Bond for Grand Jury Action in Fatality at Grand and Montgomery.

A coroner's verdict of criminal carelessness, holding John Beebe, 27 years old, a clerk, of 1701 Wash street, under a $2500 bond to await action by the grand jury, was returned today at an inquest into the case of Harrison J. Cushing, 25, a salesman, of 4324 Obea avenue, who was struck and almost instantly killed by an automobile driven by Beebe at Grand avenue and Montgomery street at 5:52 p. m. Tuesday.

The automobile was northbound on the east side of Grand avenue, and, according to the testimony of a witness, W. S. Fisher, 2438 North Grand avenue, "appeared to be racing with a northbound street car."

Cushing had just stepped from the east curb to board a street car when the automobile suddenly swerved to the west, knocked him across the street to the southbound tracks and ran in front of the northbound street car.

Fisher said that the automobile was going at about 30 or 35 miles an hour, and that if Beebe had turned to the right, instead of to the left, he might have avoided hitting Cushing. D. W. Atwood, 2538 North Grand avenue, and Ernest Purkull, 2510 North Grand avenue, testified that Cushing was standing at the proper place to board the car.

James and Leo Macelli, 2367 Madison street, who were riding with Beebe, testified that the automobile was going at about nine miles an hour, and that Cushing ran in front of it. The coroner cautioned them that they were testifying under oath.

Donovan, but said he knew nothing of the robbery plan. It is understood that O'Connor will be a witness for the State against Donovan.

OSBORNE FINDS PRISON EXAMPLE OF ANCIENT IDEAS

pleasant places. He said that he started in Auburn with the prisoners of the private guard of prisoners of their own selection. As expanded at Sing Sing, within certain boundaries, by the police of the prison by the prisoners. He declared that during the first year of this rule there were no escapes, or a few number had occurred for 12 years in the institution.

"The real prison problem," he declared, "is not in keeping criminals in prison, but in returning them to society." He declared that the Mutual Welfare League gave the prisoners the duties they would be called upon to perform.

"You wouldn't train a man for a job by putting him to bed," he declared.

During his two talks Osborne gave many illustrations of what he termed the efficiency of rules and practices under old prison methods.

Single Reason for Rules.

"You know," he said at the City Club, "the why of prison rules is a question that is never answered. During a month that I spent as a prisoner in the navy to learn what conditions were producing prisoners for the prison at the rate of 200 a month, I found out that the 'gob' had one answer when I asked why they were forbidden."

"Oh, it was never done by John Jones," was the reply. "At the end of a week, during which I did 'time' in Auburn, I was found in the 'cooler' or punishment hall for 14 hours. Punishment hall in Auburn meant existence on one cup of water per 24 hours. At Sing Sing, where this also was the punishment, I found out that it also was the practice to punch a hole in the cup's bottom so that the water would keep away if not consumed at once."

"When I entered punishment hall my handkerchief was taken from me. I learned that this was because years before a man had hanged himself with his handkerchief while undergoing punishment. The man had kept all night on the first day of his confinement and he was punished for disturbing the cell block by being sent to punishment hall. His wife, taut at his new experience, snapped—and he hanged himself."

"The absurdity of it was that instead of seeking the cause that sent that man to suicide and removing it, they removed the means, the handkerchief. And they left me my underclothes when I went in! If I had saved myself with my underclothes just to show them, no other prisoner would have been sent to punishment hall in his underclothes. "At the end of my two years seven months as warden of Portsmouth, we had 2000 prisoners and not a guard except those chosen by the prisoners themselves. There were 170 prisoners and 181 guards when I went there. During my wardenship I handled 6852 prisoners and there were only eight escapes, with about a dozen more attempts." Osborne departed for Auburn last night. He said that he expected to return to Missouri about Aug. 1 and expected at that time to install the Mutual Welfare League in Jefferson City. "I know of no more fertile field for it," he said.

WEALTHY FARMER ADMITS ROBBING BANK TO PAY NOTE

Man Who Needed $1700 to Pay Off Paper on One of Three Autos, Held With Employee.

$8000 HOLDUP AT HUDSON, ILL., MONDAY

He Says Employee Painted Inviting Picture of Ease With Which Banks Could Be Robbed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BLOOMINGTON, Ill., June 21.—Montgomery North, a wealthy young farmer, short of ready cash, but who could have borrowed $50,000 on his unsecured note if he had cared to ask the banks for it, is penitent at the McLean County jail today after being arrested on the charge of perpetrating a daring daylight holdup of the State Bank at Hudson last Monday afternoon.

His wife and three small children visited him at the jail today, and there was an affecting scene. North can hardly understand how he yielded to the temptation. He places the blame largely upon Charles Welch, a farmhand, who had been in North's employ for two years, and who painted an inviting picture of the ease with which banks could be robbed with the aid of an automobile. North owned three machines. North had been holding his grain and live stock for higher prices, and this had left him short of ready cash. One automobile, which he purchased last fall for $1700, was paid for with cash borrowed from the Secor Bank. This note worried him and he was anxious to get it paid. The money obtained in the bank holdup was to go toward the settlement of the note.

Farmhand Wore No Mask.
Charles Welch, also known as Joe Springmeyer, who is said to be wanted for bootlegging at West Liberty, Ia., is 30 years old. He claims to have been employed in St. Louis at various jobs from 1909 until 1912. Welch agreed to hold up the bank cashier and other attaches with his revolver, if North would go after the cash. Their plans worked perfectly. North was supplied with a mask, as he was well known to the bank attaches and disguise was necessary. Welch did not use a mask. The pair had little trouble in getting the cash and bonds, $8000 being taken, and with North driving the car and Welch preventing pursuit with his revolver, the pair made a successful escape, circling around Hudson until they reached North's farm about 10 miles east of Hudson. There they divided the cash and buried the bonds under the floor of a barn.

Visited by Poses.
While the two were at work counting the money a group of young farmers with guns came along in pursuit of the bandits and North, engaged the posse in conversation, stating that he had seen no one passing the description given. The men then drove on, little suspecting that North was implicated. Welch departed that evening for Peoria and returned to Bloomington the next day. He had been under suspicion of bootlegging and when it was learned by the Sheriff that he had considerable cash he was placed under arrest on suspicion. He was finally charged with the Hudson bank robbery and confessed, implicating North, the latter's arrest following. The signed confessions of the two men have been obtained. Each places the blame upon the other.

CITY TO SPEND $1,130,335 ON STREET WORK NOW UNDER WAY

The city at this time has more street construction under way than at any other time since the World's Fair, according to W. W. Horner, engineer in charge.

Thirty-four contracts involving the expenditure of $1,130,335 for new streets, or the reconstruction of old streets, are being carried out. Besides, 22 alleys are being constructed at a cost of $110,000 and five sewers at a cost of $160,000, exclusive of the Harlem Creek sewer, for which the appropriation is $350,000. Ordinances for the construction of 5.2 miles of other streets, at a cost of $487,000, have been passed, and ordinances for the construction of 6.9 miles additional at a cost of $690,000 are in the process of passage. The city is also preparing three miles of other streets for construction next spring at a cost of $235,000.

The 11.9 miles now under construction will be completed before winter, it is expected. Some of the larger of these constructions are Compton avenue from Park to Chouteau, $43,000; King's highway northeast from Euclid to Florissant, $187,000; and Oakland avenue, from King's highway to Clayton, $117,000. The city now has 440 miles of hard-paved streets, 250 miles of soft-paved streets and 240 miles of unimproved streets.

NATION PAYING OUT 40 PER CENT OF ITS EARNINGS IN TAXES, CONGRESSMAN SAYS

Appropriations for Coming Year Cannot Be Less Than Six Billion Five Hundred Million, He Estimates.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Declaring that Government waste is something frightful, Representative Charles L. Knight of Ohio, Republican, who has been studying the problem, estimates that the nation is paying out in taxes nearly 40 per cent of its net earnings. Knight is the publisher of the Akron Beacon Journal. He has put his conclusions in the following statement:

"Appropriations already made and those which must be made for the federal budget for the coming year will be less than $5,000,000,000. The total cost of the federal government will be about $60 for every man, woman and child in the United States, or a burden of from $250 to $300 on every family. If we add to this the cost of state and municipal governments, we arrive at a situation which is startling.

Ohio as an Example.
The figures are not available for all of the states, but let us take Ohio, for example.
Cost of State Government for 1918, $25,000,000.
County government, $4,700,000.
The cost of city government in Ohio is not available since 1918, but that year it was $45,000,000. A reasonable estimate is that it is now at least $60,000,000. That is, the city government is costing Ohio about $10 per capita. State government $5 per capita and county government $7. If we add this to the federal cost of government, the total will be about $82 per capita, or about $350 for each family.

"It is difficult to get at the average annual earnings, for there are so many returns from the farmers, our numerous class, but leaving that out and taking an average of the returns made, it was about $950 for the past year. We then have the cost of government approximately close to 40 per cent of the average earnings. This seems incredible, but it is a fact nevertheless, and it shows very clearly the desperate situation in which we now find ourselves. If we add this to the cost of such tax does not alter the situation at all, for it means that some other families will pay more. A nation that is paying out, as we are, almost 40 per cent of its net earnings in taxes, not only cannot return to prosperity, but will not long endure.

MY CAPTAIN WHO LET CREW ACT ON DISCIPLINE IS RELIEVED

Denby Holds That, While Move was to Improve Morale, It Might Establish Bad Precedent.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Secretary Denby, on recommendation of Admiral Wilson, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, has relieved Captain D. B. Stearns of the battleship Michigan, for having permitted his crew to discuss with him disciplinary matters vested only in the ship's commanding officer.

Capt. Stearns issued the order which brought about his detachment from the approval of former Secretary Daniels. It is understood, that Secretary Denby is said to hold that, while intended to improve morale of the enlisted personnel, approval by the department of the course would establish a precedent that might injure discipline.

Denby said today that the maintenance of discipline was vested by statute solely in the commanding officer.

The order issued on the Michigan provided for a "ship morale committee" to consist of four petty officers and 10 other enlisted men. Among duties assigned to it was investigation and a report to the captain on discipline and matters which the captain might require and transmit to the Captain from the crew of suggestions tending to increase the efficiency of the ship or the naval service.

PLAN OFFERED TO IMPROVE ALL MUD ROADS IN STATE

Owner of Columbia Telephone Co. Makes Proposal That Each County Have Highway Commission.

HARD ROADS UNLIKELY TO COME FROM PLAN

J. A. Hudson Would Empower Counties to Bond Themselves for Road Funds by Two-Thirds Vote

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 23.—A definite plan for the improvement and maintenance of the approximately 111,000 miles of public road in Missouri which will "not come within the proposed 6000-mile State road system was presented last night to the Senate Committee on Roads and Highways by J. A. Hudson of Columbia, owner of the Columbia Telephone Co., a farmer on a big scale, and for many years an active booster of good roads.

Hudson admitted at the beginning of his argument to the committee that the bill he proposed was a "mud road" bill, but said he was neither favoring nor opposing the condition of the State that the bill appeared to provide a logical method for the counties of the State to put their dirt roads into as good a condition as possible pending the time when they ultimately would be taken into an extension of the 6000-mile State system to a larger State system.

First Need Is State System.

It is realized by those legislators who have given careful study to the road situation of the State that the first consideration must be given to the State system and that the proper expenditure of the $60,000,000 bond issue fund is the primary subject before the committee. But they know also majority of the rural population of the State and the residents of a majority of the smaller towns and villages are on roads which will not for many years be taken into the State system, and that every possible provision of law should be made to give them reasonably good roads.

The proposed Hudson law, which was introduced by Senator Seneker of Lawrence County, contains nothing more than build bridges and culverts and drag roads and make minor repairs, with some few exceptions.

Under the Hudson bill a county may bond itself for roads by a two-thirds vote. It may levy a road and bridge tax of $5 cents on the $100 valuation on all property in the county except that in incorporated places. This tax would be spread over all the roads of the county.

The principal provision of the bill, however, is for building of roads by special benefit plan, as applied to the entire county, instead of the present system of applying benefit to the small road districts separately. Each county is made a road district by the bill, and a road commission of three members elected by districts is provided.

Plan for Property Assessment.

It is proposed that when the owners of a majority of the acres of land within one mile of a road five miles or more in length desire to have that road improved, they may file with the commissioners a petition for the improvement, which may be for any character of road desired. Provision is made for the assessment of the property to be improved on the basis of its actual value; that within the second half mile, on a basis of 75 per cent of its value; that within the third half mile, on a basis of 50 per cent of its value; that within the fourth half mile, on a basis of 25 per cent of its value, and all other property in the county on a basis of 10 per cent of its value. The actual assessment of the property for general taxation shall be taken on the basis of its full value, and the percentage of assessment for the special road-building purposes.

Senator Ralph last night announced that the committee hearings were open to all citizens of the State to present their views on legislation connected with a reorganization of the State Highway Department, and on the expenditure of the $60,000,000 road bond fund. Hearings will be held nearly every day.

Text of King George's Speech at Ulster Parliament Opening

By the Associated Press.

BELFAST, June 23.—The King's speech at the State opening of the Parliament yesterday, follows:

"For all who love Ireland, as I do with all my heart, this is a profoundly moving occasion in Irish history. I could not have allowed myself to give Ireland by deputy alone my earnest prayers and good wishes in the new era which opens with this ceremony, and I, therefore, come in person as head of the Empire to inaugurate the Parliament on Irish soil.

"I inaugurate it with the deepest hope and I feel assured you will do your utmost to make it an instrument of happiness and good government for all parts of the community which you represent. This is a great and critical occasion in the history of the six counties, but not for the six counties alone, for everything which interests them touches Ireland and everything which touches Ireland finds an echo in the remotest parts of the Empire.

Hope for Peace.

"Few things are more earnestly desired throughout the English-speaking world than a satisfactory solution of the age-long Irish problems, which for generations have embarrassed our friendship and weigh heavily upon us. Most certainly there is no wish nearer my own heart than that every man of Irish birth, whatever his creed and wherever he lives, should work in loyal co-operation with the free communities on which the British Empire is based. The request for full partnership in the United Kingdom and religious freedom in Ireland have engaged. She has now conferred upon her duty of dealing with all the essential tasks of domestic legislation and government, and I feel no misgiving as to the spirit in which you who stand here today will carry out all the important functions entrusted to your care.

Eyes of Empire on Ireland.

"My hope is broader still. The eyes of the whole empire are on Ireland today, that empire in which so many nations and races have come together in spite of ancient feuds, and in which new nations have come to birth within the lifetime of the youngest in this hall. I am emboldened by the thought to look beyond the sorrow and anxiety which I've clouded of late my vision of Irish affairs. I speak from a full heart when I pray that my coming to Ireland today may prove to be the first step towards an end of strife amongst the people whatever their race or creed.

"In that hope I appeal to all Irishmen to pause, to stretch out the hand of forbearance and reconciliation, to forgive and to forget, and to join in making for the land which they love a new era of peace, contentment and good will. It is my earnest desire that in Southern Ireland, too, there may, ere long, take place a parallel to what is now passing in this hall; that there a similar occasion may present itself and a similar ceremony be performed.

FANFARE FOR KING BY TRUMPETERS IN GOLD BELFAST

Opening of Ulster Parliament Carried Out in Gay Style, King Wearing Admiral's Uniform and Sash.

By the Associated Press.

BELFAST, June 23.—The opening of the Northern Parliament yesterday by King George, who was accompanied by Queen Mary, was carried out with all the pageantry and ceremony with which formal actions of British sovereigns are surrounded. The King wore the uniform of an Admiral, with the blue sash of the Order of the Garter across his breast, while the Queen, pale and nervous, was in white satin, without any insignia of her rank. But a string of pearls was about her neck and large clusters of diamonds and emeralds shone from her collar and brooch.

There were trumpeters in uniform of gold, who blew fanfares as the royal couple arrived, and various officers of state in naval, military and medieval uniforms.

A modern note was struck by the King's speech, which he read in a strong, clear voice. His play for peace and reconciliation between the two branches of the Irish race fell on welcome ears, for in no part of Ireland is peace more desired than in Ulster, where business has suffered greatly by the strife throughout the country and by the Sinn Fein boycott of Ulster goods.

All Churches Represented.

During the delivery of the King's speech the whole audience remained standing. Prior to this, prayers were said by the Primate of Ireland, the Anglican-Presbyterian moderator and the senior Methodist minister; thus all the religions represented in the Parliament were recognized.

A tribute to Premier Craig. In his speech to Premier Craig, Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, contrary to expectations, made no pronouncement in proposing the health of the King.

hope and believe that their influence and example will assist to set the whole of Ireland ere long upon the path of practical co-operation, which alone can lead to realization of the desires of the Irish people for Irish independence.

The Government of Ireland act has put Ireland's future in the hands of its own people, provided only that Southern Ireland renounces its claim to secession from the empire.

Scenes in Streets.

The scenes in the streets during the royal progress, both coming and returning, were unprecedented in the history of the city. Although the troops lining the route and the police in the background were not needed to protect the King and Queen, they were used in preventing overenthusiastic crowds of Loyalists from overrunning the roadway.

The King and Queen re-embarked on the royal yacht shortly after 4 o'clock.

Comment of Dublin Papers on King's Speech at Belfast.

By the Associated Press.

DUBLIN, June 23.—Commenting upon the address of King George at Belfast yesterday, the Irish Times said this morning: "If Southern Irishmen will allow themselves to think soberly, we may hope yesterday's event at Belfast will begin immediately to improve the prospects of peace. Henceforward no Irishman who is not a fool or a lunatic can ignore the significance of the Northern Parliament."

The Irish Independent said: "Division in Ireland is fostered by Great Britain for her own ends. If there was honesty in British politics, if members of the King's Cabinet desired to apply the principle of state-manship, and not force a remedy, war would be ended and discontent would be allayed in Ireland."

STEFANSSON INCORPORATES ARCTIC DEVELOPMENT COMPANY

By the Associated Press.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 23.—Another expedition to the Arctic slope under the direction of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Canadian explorer of the Northlands, was indicated today when the Arctic Exploration and Development Co. was announced under way.

The company will have a capital of $100,000, and it is understood that the spirit of the trip has been found and is now located in the North.

Stefansson, who is president of the new company, said one purpose of the expedition would be to investigate and develop practical features of marketing reindeer meat and furs, as well as to explore thoroughly the resources and country lying to the north of Canada.

LEWIS OUTLINES ISSUES IN RACE AGAINST GOMPER'S

Miners' Head Seeking Presidency of A. F. L. on Platform for Government Ownership of Railroads.

NATIONALIZATION OF MINES ALSO URGED

Incumbent Bases Hope of Re-election on Record of 41 Years in Service of Labor Movement.

By the Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., June 23.—Government ownership of the railroads and nationalization of the mines are the two major issues on which John L. Lewis hopes to win the presidency of the American Federation of Labor, it was learned today. On the other hand, President Gompers is striving for re-election upon his record of the past 41 years as a leader in the American labor movement.

In his first public statement as to his platform, Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, said: "I stand for Government ownership of the railroads and nationalization of the mines, and other progressive legislation that will give the workers and the toilers of America the freedom and justice in industry they deserve."

"I stand for health insurance, old age pensions and unemployment insurance—all progressive measures for the relief of the working masses. The enactment of laws covering these subjects would give to the workers adequate protection and reward for the service that they have rendered industry."

No Stand on International Union.

Lewis said that he had taken no definite stand on the subject of relations with European trades union movements, adding: "I believe, however, that some logical proposition can be worked out by which the American labor movement again can be affiliated with the International Federation of Trade Unions. Of course, the autonomy of the labor organization must be fully guaranteed."

"In any event, I believe we should not lose contact with the European federation, and we should be in communication with that body."

"All my policies," he continued, "will be formulated on a sane and constructive basis and be designed to meet and adequately dispose of the great issues that confront organized labor as they exist today."

Gompers Stands on Record.

While President Gompers issued no statement, supporters speaking in his behalf declared that "his record in the American labor movement during the past 41 years would reflect him to the presidency."

This made the issues between the two candidates clear, as President Gompers has already gone on record against Government ownership of the railroads, health insurance and other similar proposed legislative measures.

Supporters of both candidates continued their campaigns today, trying to convince the voters that the floor of the convention, where they went from group to group of delegates soliciting their support. Little change, however, was shown in the lineup for the candidates.

The Lewis boomers made public a telegram sent by John Hessler, president, and William Mitch, secretary, of the Indiana district, United Mine Workers, to Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois district, Robert Harlan, president of the Washington district, and Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas district, urging them to vote for the miners' leader.

All three of these district mine leaders are delegates to the convention and are reported opposed to Lewis.

Supporters of Lewis.

The telegram said that the executive board of the Indiana district had held a meeting and canvassed the situation, arriving at the conclusion that the great mass of Indiana miners overwhelmingly favored a change in the presidency of the American Federation of Labor.

More than 200 resolutions from local miners' unions in all sections of the country have been received at the Lewis campaign headquarters. It was stated, approving the candidacy of the miners' chief and urging his support.

NAVY'S CASE BEFORE PUBLIC; PLANE AND SHIP TESTS HELD BEFORE EYES OF WORLD

French, Spanish and Japanese Representatives Watched Sinking of U-Boats Off Virginia Capes.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. HENDERSON, OFF NORFOLK, Va., June 23.—The navy has thrown open the secrecy which throughout the history of all navies has enshrouded gunfire and bombing tests. It has admitted the public to grand-stand seats at the series of tests this month and next off the Virginia capes.

When the U-117 went down Tuesday under a rain of nine bombs from naval airplanes, observers representing not only the American press, but the military establishments of foreign countries were looking on, noting every movement. The tests were literally open to the world. On board the Henderson, which brought from Washington a large party of spectators, were attaches of the air missions of France, Spain and Japan.

The navy is putting its case before the public. It realizes that to win its fight for continued building of capital ships, in the face of the opposition of the nation's defense, it will have to win the sympathy of the public. To get action by Congress it must have that sympathy. Even the most cord-bolled of the old line navy men are now showing a tendency to take the public, which pays the bills, into their confidence, even as Brigadier-General William Mitchell of the air service, on the other side, has done with such good effect.

View Taken of Tests.

The sinking of the former German U-boat from the air, quickly and neatly, did not fully prove the contention of Gen. Mitchell that the Air Service has reached a stage of development where it can sink any capital ship afloat. The battleship-versus-airplane controversy started by Gen. Mitchell, still is unsettled. It figures in the Henderson in nearly every conversation growing out of the spectacular demonstration of last Tuesday.

"The test," said a naval officer, "showed only that airplanes, flying low and flying slowly, can sink a lightly armored stationary ship. It does not prove that airplanes will be effective against an armored capital ship able to protect itself."

"But," he continued, "an airman with the easy camaraderie of the service, we can cause you a lot of trouble even then. Send out a flock of planes against a battleship and a somebody is going to get by your defenses and put a bomb on deck. Moreover, they will go out from the shore in airships, in the certain knowledge that some of them won't come back, just as infantrymen go over the top knowing that a percentage will perish."

Three Schools of Thought.

There are three schools of thought respecting the airplane. There is, first, the old line navy school, which believes that the capital ship is and always will be the mistress of the sea, and that the airplane is a pesky interloper, a pretty thing, but useless.

Then there is the other extreme of opinion, which holds, with Gen. Mitchell, that the airship has rendered the battleship obsolete.

Between these two schools is a moderate one which now has many adherents in both army and navy and either of the others. It is the conviction of this middle group—a conviction greatly strengthened by the airplane tests that, while the capital ship remains an indispensable arm of defense, the airplane has proved its sterling worth and must be developed as a part of the navy.

As one high naval officer on the Henderson put it: "We must make up our minds that the navy of today is a three-plane navy, operating on the sea and above and below the sea. A navy is not adequate for modern warfare unless each of the planes is developed in proper relation to the whole."

Possibilities of Airplane.

Naval officers who have not allowed the traditions of the service to blind them to the possibilities of the airplane, which now has many adherents in both army and navy, today is passing through a transition period. In the next few years anything may happen to upset the careful calculations of the experts. Any of the three planes of the modern navy, the surface plane, the submarine or the airship, may prove itself the master of the others, and change the whole trend of naval construction throughout the world.

It is imperative, according to those who hold this moderate view, that the condition of flux in the navy be recognized by the public and that overemphasis be not laid on any one of the three branches. Further experimentation will be required, they say, to determine conclusively where the emphasis should be laid. For the present they counsel the building of airships as well as of capital battleships.

Turtleback Decks Possible. Undoubtedly the exercises which are being held off the Virginia Capes, 60 miles out at sea, will accentuate the tendency, already manifest in battleship construction, to armor decks of ships more heavily against attacks from above. Possibly the capital ship of tomorrow will have, instead of flat decks, as at present, a turtleback shield to deflect missiles from the air.

The tests have demonstrated strikingly the ability of airplanes to operate a considerable distance from the shore, a point worthy of note in the consideration of future means of coast defense. The planes that bombarded and sank the U-117 flew over land and water, a total of 85 miles, to reach the target. Over the area of operations they flew perhaps 100 miles, then returned the 85 miles to their base, without mishap. They stilled forever the skeptics who maintained that planes were good for operations only over the land. Gen. Mitchell scored conclusively to that extent at least.

Safety of Naval Plane.

As a corollary, it was demonstrated that a naval plane, if not more efficient over the sea, is certainly safer for the flier to be in than a land plane. The only plane that came to grief was a land plane. The plane would have floated perhaps for four or five hours. After that, if ships had not been stationed all about, the flier might have perished. A seaplane could have taxied about on the water, looking for the haven of shore or ship, or, running out of gas, could have lain on the water for an indefinite period. The navy scored one over the army, whose army plane fell and a navy seaplane went to the rescue.

The flier in the army plane, Lieutenant-Colonel C. C. Culver, wore the new kapok jackets that are now being issued to aviators. Kapok would have answered Mr. Edison's question as to the lightest wood. It is lighter than cork. Clad in his kapok jacket, the fallen aviator easily sustained himself in the water till the rescuing plane taxied up to within swimming reach.

Lightest Bombs Dropped.

The bombs dropped against the U-117 were the lightest aerial missiles in use, weighing 165 pounds each, containing 117 pounds of TNT. The fliers started with the small bombs because they wanted to see just how far a chance for a bomb would turn the trick. Manifestly, the lighter the bombs, the more shots the aviator can carry in his locker, which is to say, in the case of the plane, under the wings. The little bombs did the work, leaving the heavier bombs scheduled to come later if the small ones failed. Besides the damage wrought by the small amount of TNT, observers speculated as to the effect of a direct hit on a battleship by one of the 2000-pounders.

The battleship fleet at night is a wonderful sight. Whether or not he believes in a big navy, the imagination of the landman is certain to be inflamed by such a sight as that which held the Henderson vary close to the rail late into the night. All around the vessel were the lights of great ships riding at anchor. Lights like strings of jewels picked out the ladders of the ships' sides. Lights flashed from masts as the ships signaled to one another in the code of the sea; great searchlights stretched ghostly fingers out into the darkness, and then a signal gun would break the stillness with a staccato bark.

Visit to the Pennsylvania.

A party from the Henderson paid an afternoon visit to the Pennsylvania, flagship of the fleet, one of the great vessels of the American navy. The first impression that one got was of paint—gray paint, everywhere, paint already on and paint being sloughed on by the gale.

Sun slanting along the decks showed the grim lines of the vessel. Many of the masts—more boys, they seemed—were at play. Here a pair were wrestling, there a party were at cards; on a broad expanse of clear deck—the landman dare not give it a name—a baseball battery was working out.

A pitcher needs control on the deck of a ship. This pitcher apparently had it. Ball after ball plumped accurately into the mitt of the catcher. Then the tragedy. The ball glanced off the mitt and shot out into the sea.

A small squad of marines lounged on the deck. A boy was asked whether they ever worked. "No," he replied. "They never work; loaf all day. But—he consoled himself—"they don't get the pay that we do."

Voice and eyes spoke the scorn of the seaman for the landlubber. The boy, lowly though his rank was, a part of the fleet, a part of its flagship. The spirit of the sea had got him.

"Is Union Electric Still Selling That Stuff?"

This question regarding our 7% preferred stock was asked by some visitors to Union Electric's exhibits at the "Own Your Own Home" exposition. Apparently our home financing program is not yet as well understood as it should be.

Union Electric Light & Power Co., supplying electric light, heat and power for the homes, offices, factories, stores and farms of over a million people in the St. Louis district covering more than a thousand square miles, is a GROWING INSTITUTION. It has to grow to keep pace with steady increase in the number of its customers—now more than 140,000—and with an equally steady increase in the average yearly use per customer of Union Electric service.

This growth calls for the investment of $5000 to $10,000 of new capital every working day in the year, merely to finance our ordinary extensions and apparatus equipment—in order that we may be able to render high-class, continuous service 24 hours of every day in the year.

So far as possible we get this new capital here at home. Getting it this way saves a large part of the middleman's financing charge, so holding down the cost of the service. Also every new shareholder here at home means one more St. Louisan with a legitimate pocket interest in helping us extend and increase the service. Anyone, anywhere, can buy the shares, but nearly all of the buyers thus far are St. Louis district men and women—a majority of them our customers.

The shares we are selling are the PREFERRED STOCK of the Company, having first claim on dividend earnings and on assets, over the common stock. Each $100 preferred share is protected, as to principal, by a prior claim, over the common stock, on $373 of income-producing property. The Company's dividend earnings, for preferred and common stock, are SIX TIMES the sum needed to pay 7% dividends on the $4,000,000 of preferred stock outstanding and on sale.

We now have more than FIVE THOUSAND home preferred stockholders and we expect to have two or three times that many within a few years, as St. Louis district savings investors more generally realize the opportunity offered them, in these shares, to get SEVEN PER CENT ON THEIR MONEY, AS SAFELY AS THEY NOW GET THREE PER CENT, and protected at all times against loss of the principal by the CONSTANT PAB CASH MARKET which the Company maintains for these shares in its Securities Department.

Issuance and sale of these shares is authorized by the State, and every dollar received for them is carefully and honestly invested in income-producing public service property. The price is $100 a share. Our ten-monthly-payment plan is helping hundreds of men and women to buy these shares, and get 7% income, out of current monthly savings.

DEMOCRATS DENOUNCE USE OF 142 CLERKS TO DO WORK OF 30

Republican Offer of Five to Opposition in Missouri House Rejected.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, June 23.—The Democratic minority in the House today refused to accept the appointment of five members of the clerical force offered them by the Republicans, who, in a resolution, provided for a clerical force of 142 members. Representative Ferguson of Ripley County, minority leader, charged the Republicans with extravagance. He said:

"You boast of economy and profess that you are reducing expenses." Ferguson said to the Republicans. "How can you expect the people to believe you when your actions belie your words? Each of the 104 Republican members is to have one clerk, and enough others are provided to bring the total up to nearly 150."

We Democrats don't want to name any clerk, and we won't do it. Thirty clerks could do all the work and have plenty of time to loaf. You are insisting upon the spoils system, and we refuse to accept the spoils system to throw to you. We let you assume the entire responsibility."

HOMICIDE VERDICT IN DEATH OF MAN WHO DEFENDED WIFE

"Big Bill" Manion Named by Jury After Inquest in Killing of Michael McEvoy in Fight.

A coroner's verdict of homicide was returned today in the death last Tuesday of Michael McEvoy, 40, a laborer, living in the rear of 401 South Fourth street, who was struck and knocked through a railing of a porch at his home and fell 12 feet to the ground during an argument Sunday. The verdict named a man known in the neighborhood as "Big Bill" Manion.

McEvoy's wife, Mrs. Florence McEvoy, testified that her husband had demanded an apology from Manion for a remark he had made to her, and that Manion had replied that the only condition under which he would apologize was that McEvoy should whip him. She said that her husband replied that it "took a good man to whip me," and that Manion thereupon struck him in the jaw.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 23.—Alberta Morton, 23 years old, who says she formerly taught school in St. Louis County, admitted to the police here that she had been writing worthless checks.

She was arrested in a hotel where she had been a guest for a week. She told the police her first fraudulent check was passed in exchange for $2 worth of merchandise at a dry goods store. She followed it with another at the same store for $5, she said. Both checks were returned by the banks on which they were drawn marked "no funds."

Miss Morton said she left St. Louis in February. She opened deposits here at several banks, giving worthless checks on St. Louis banks. On several occasions she drew on these deposits before her original deposit check was returned from St. Louis marked "no funds."

INSURANCE AGENT HELD FOR INQUIRY ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Man Wanted in Pennsylvania for Deserting Wife, Says He Married Girl He Brought Here.

Walter Lawyer, an insurance agent, of 1660A South Jefferson avenue, was arrested yesterday by the police at the suggestion of United States Marshal Lynch, who had looked him up at the request of the Carbonale, Pa., authorities on a Mann act charge, and had found that the charge should be bigamy, if anything.

The information from Carbonale was that Lawyer had deserted his wife and children and had brought a girl to St. Louis. He said he married the girl before bringing her to St. Louis, so there was nothing against him under the Mann act. To the police Lawyer admitted that in 1910 he was married to Bernice Farrell at Carbonale, and that two children were born, and that he and his wife separated in 1913. He went to Corney, Pa., and on April 1, 1915, he and Helen McGray, 19 years old, eloped to Buffalo and were married. They came here, early in 1916. He says he thought his first wife had obtained a divorce.

WOMAN OBTAINS HER SECOND DIVORCE FROM PHYSICIAN

Mrs. Edna Marie Compton yesterday in Circuit Judge Killoren's court obtained her second divorce from Dr. J. Roy Compton, proprietor of the Lafayette Hospital, 2937 Lafayette avenue. She alleged that he paid too much attention to a nurse in the hospital and also to a young woman boarder at the Compton home.

Mrs. Compton first divorced Dr. Compton in January, 1918, after being married 11 years. They were remarried six months after the divorce. Their last separation took place last March. They have three children, whose custody the mother obtained. She also obtained $250 a month alimony, stating that Dr. Compton has an income of from $500 to $1000 a month. He did not defend the case.

MILLMEN REPLY TO BARRETT'S CHARGES

Building Inquiry Showed Mill Prices 40 Per Cent Below 1920 Peak, They Declare.

A statement "to correct false conclusions of the Attorney-General's statement with respect to prices of millwork and the method of its association," was sent to the Post-Dispatch today by J. P. Larson, secretary of the St. Louis Millmen's Association. It refers to the announcement yesterday by Attorney-General Barrett that he would institute quo warranto proceedings against the association, together with the St. Louis Lumber Trade Exchange and the St. Louis Material Dealers' Association on charges of violation of the State anti-trust statute. Larson's statement follows:

"The Attorney-General in his statement issued today, appears to believe, and certainly gives the public to understand, that the scarcity of building in the city of St. Louis, Mo., and the admitted high prices in the building industry in St. Louis, are due to a price-fixing by the millmen and material dealers in the city of St. Louis. These charges are made in such a way as to leave the impression that prices are only high in the building industry of St. Louis and not elsewhere and that they are high because of a criminal conspiracy among the material dealers and the various industries that are related to the building industry. He seems to have shut his eyes to the fact that high prices prevail throughout the United States and throughout the world not only in the building industry but in practically every other industry. He refers but lightly to the fact, which he must admit is a fact, that labor costs have enormously increased and that the high cost of building and the high cost of material is more directly attributable to high labor costs than to any other one thing.

Mill Work Higher Than in 1917.
"So far as the St. Louis Millmen's Association is concerned, its members think that in justice to them and in justice to the public, these facts should be kept in mind.

"The present price of millwork is from 54 per cent to 80 per cent over that of the year 1917—the pre-war year.

"The average increase in the price of lumber used in the manufacture of millwork during the same time has been 96 per cent.

"The average increase of labor during the same time has been 107 per cent.

"The average increase of overhead expense has been 112 per cent.

"From these figures it will be seen that the increase in the price of millwork has not by any means kept pace with the increase of the cost of the millmen of the labor and material that goes into their product.

"The testimony brought out in the Attorney-General's investigation further shows that the decrease in the prices of millwork in St. Louis from the peak prices of 1920 to that of the present time has been from 40 to 50 per cent. In other words, millwork now costs approximately only one-half as much as it did during the peak prices of 1920. And yet the peak prices of 1920, in the face of these facts, the Attorney-General, in his statement, says: 'In spite of the fact that building is at a standstill and that there is no actual market for building materials, prices still remain near the high war levels.'

"Decline of 40 Per Cent Shown.

"That the testimony as to the reduction in the price of millwork as between the peak prices of 1920 and the present time is true is still further borne out by the fact that a St. Louis architect recently published in one of the St. Louis newspapers figures from an independent investigation showing the decrease of building material, wherein he stated that millwork had declined 40 per cent since July, 1920.

"The evidence of a criminal conspiracy most emphasized by the Attorney-General in the case of the millmen is the fact that they all use a 'cost guide' by which they can estimate scientifically the cost of each item of material, such as window frames, door jams, moldings, etc., produced by them. In other words, they are condemned instead of (as the millmen thought they ought to be), praised for adopting business methods which would enable them to know what their products cost them. And this criticism is made notwithstanding the fact that the United States Government has advocated and indeed, insisted, upon all business concerns adopting an accurate system for determining costs of production and manufacture.

"The St. Louis Millmen's Association.

BREAKFAST IS READY!

Grapefruit and rolls and coffee, and a blue pitcher full of Golden Key Evaporated Milk, all set on the breezy breakfast porch. What could be better for a hot morning?

Golden Key Evaporated Milk

is the perfect Summer milk, for it is always fresh and sweet, and rich as cream.

For "Golden Key" comes from Southern Wisconsin, the richest dairy country in the world.

This milk is sterilized and evaporated, until it has the consistency of cream. Then it is shipped straight to the grocer, who delivers it fresh to you. That is why it always has the delicate, fresh flavor of sweet cream.

And it will stay fresh. That is the reason for its great popularity.

"Golden Key" takes the place of both milk and cream, for it may be used as cream in coffee and cereal, or whipped and beaten into salad dressing. At other times, it may be diluted with water and used as milk in cooking. It is always fresh and ready for use.

The Idle Coal Miners

IDLE coal miners in the Summer mean empty coal bins in the Fall. Unemployment at the coal mines is more than a worry of the coal miner's family. It is a problem of direct concern to the coal consumer.

Coal miners cannot dig a year's supply of coal during a few weeks of rush orders in the Fall. The only feasible measure against a coal shortage next Fall is to keep the coal miners busy now.

Get your next Winter's coal now while the miners can do their part to prevent cold weather worries.

The Coal Service Bureau of St. Louis is seeking public co-operation as a means of mutual protection against a serious coal situation next Fall.

succeed in doing approximately 85 per cent of the business of this city. It has not consciously violated any law of the State or Federal Government, and naturally views the charges of the Attorney-General as an unwarranted assault upon the industry, which needs assistance rather than obstruction in its efforts to increase the building industry in the City of St. Louis from its present low state to a normal condition.

Attorney-General Barrett, when asked today to comment upon the rejoinder of the millmen, said: "My statement speaks for itself."

KANSAS CITY BANKER TO HEAD
LIVESTOCK LOAN CORPORATION

Organization of $50,000,000 Combination to Be Completed Within a Week.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 23.—Incorporation of the Bankers' Livestock Loan Corporation, the $50,000,000 livestock loan pool, will be completed within a week, according to plans outlined at a meeting of New York and Chicago bankers here, it was learned yesterday. It is expected that the corporation, whose capital will be subscribed by banks throughout the country, will be in a position to function shortly after the subscription list is closed.

M. L. McClure, member of the board of directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, will probably head the corporation as executive manager. He practically agreed to assume this position following the meeting Tuesday. Management of the corporation will be vested in a board of directors elected by the subscribing banks. Details of the management, however, will be in the hands of an executive committee consisting of five Chicago representatives.

Operation of the corporation is expected to afford immediate financial relief to the livestock industry of the United States.

Then let your clothes soak—and rinse without any hard rubbing—Soak one hour—two hours—overnight—whatever time is convenient. These wonderful mild suds loosen every particle of dirt. Rinse, to remove the loosened dirt, till the water runs clear.

NO more of the cruel strain that women have been subjected to for centuries!

Those hours of rubbing you used to do got the clothes clean but it was a terribly long, hard job.

Soaking has always meant less rubbing.

After years of experimenting, the largest soap makers in the world, by a special process, have perfected a soap product which soaks clothes clean. This marvelous product, Rinso, is a perfect combination of pure, cleansing materials, that loosen and dissolve the dirt from even the heaviest pieces of the weekly wash, without injury to a single fabric. You do not have to rub any but the most badly soiled spots such as collar bands, and cuff edges, and those just lightly.

These statements would be hard to believe if they were not made by the makers of Lux.

Lux made it possible to launder silks, woolsens and all delicate fabrics without injuring them. Now this new product, Rinso, makes it possible to do the regular weekly wash without hours of back-breaking rubbing.

Let Rinso soak your clothes sweet and clean in a few hours. See the simple yet full directions given at the side.

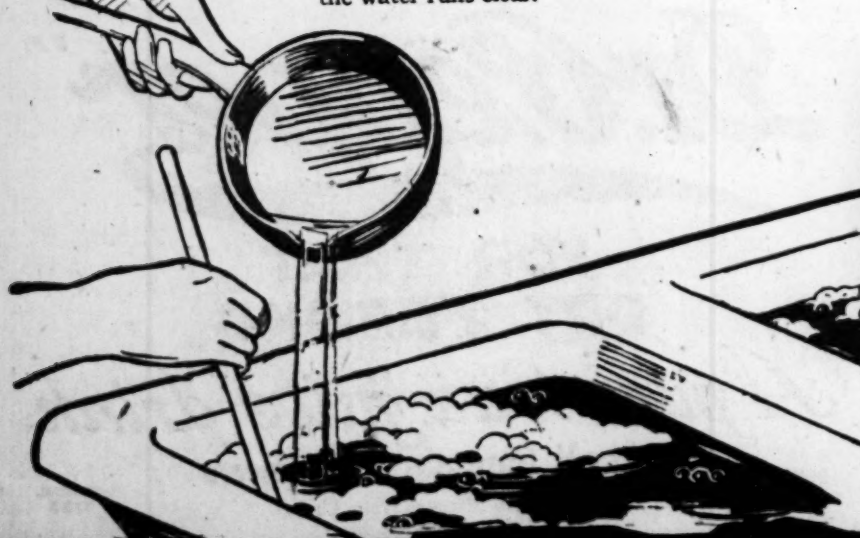

Don't rub your youth away. Get a package of Rinso today at your grocer's or department store. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Tom Gibbons Is No Pork Packer, but He Certainly Is Curing a Lot of "Hams" of Their Ring Hopes

Challenger Satisfied With Ertle As Referee; Inspects Battle Arena

Carpentier Arranges to Begin Intensive Boxing Workouts Today, With Joe Jeanette as His Opponent—Journé Has Broken Nose, Gans Quits the Camp.

By Robert Edgren.

MANHASSET, N. Y., June 23.—The New Jersey Boxing Commission has named Harry Ertle, a local referee, to act as third man in the ring July 2. The matter was settled without any preliminary battles between Manager Kearns and the commission when New Jersey's political leader told Kearns that it would have to be Ertle or no fight.

Kearns thought it over for a while, looked at Tex Rickard, who has already lost about 20 pounds weight and a lot more than $20 over New Jersey complications of a political rather than a sporting nature, and decided that he had better protect Rickard's investment and the public that has already bought nearly a million dollars' worth of tickets.

"Gov. Edwards and I will give you our personal word that you'll have an absolutely square deal from Ertle," said Mayor Hague, "and I'm sure you ought to be content with that. We know Ertle and he's all right."

"I've never heard any criticism of Ertle as far as honesty goes," said Kearns, "and any honest man with two good eyes could referee this fight to my satisfaction. Dempsey and I want an even break and fair play, and nothing more. We hoped to have one of the referees on our contract list, but as the commission doesn't see it that way, we'll make the best of it."

Georges Carpentier got away from his camp yesterday for the first time in weeks—except for two or three short fishing trips in the Sound near Manhasset.

Carpentier Inspects Arena. In the morning he took a long walk over the country roads, with a few short sprints. Returning to camp he skipped rope, shadow boxed and punched the bag. A good hard rub-down followed. Gus Wilson, his trainer, handles this end of the work and Gus is an expert. Georges was feeling fine when he dressed. Tex Rickard called for him with a car and took him across from Manhasset, down Long Island to the Fifty-ninth street bridge, across New York and out to Jersey City for his first look at the arena. Carpentier was duly impressed by the huge bowl, so much greater than any arena he had ever seen before.

Several of Carpentier's French friends arrived at his camp yesterday. Notable among these was Victor Breyer, usually spoken of as "the foremost sportsman of France."

Mr. Breyer is well known in American sports. Twenty-five years ago he used to bring over French bike racing teams for our open bike meets. He is the man nearest to Carpentier.

Municipal Meeting Tonight. The Municipal Tennis Association will hold a meeting tonight at the Community Center Hall at 8 o'clock. Delegates from all park clubs and representatives from the district tennis body are expected to be present.

Title Fight Arena to Seat 91,613; Capacity 'Gate' Over $1,600,000

JERSEY CITY, June 23.—"Tex" Rickard was informed by the contractors today that the Dempsey-Carpentier arena would seat 91,613 persons. A small army of men is engaged in painting and numbering the seats. Present receipts, Rickard said, total $850,000 while a full seating capacity would assure a gate of over $1,600,000.

All the ringside seats have been reported sold, although there are still a large number of the $10 to $40 seats to be disposed of. The $50 seats will not be placed on sale until the day of the fight.

Middies Set New Mark in Regatta

Naval Academy Crew Makes Wonderful Time in Winning Poughkeepsie Feature.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 23.—Specially invited crews won chief honors in the annual intercollegiate regatta here yesterday when the United States Naval Academy and the University of California crews raced into first and second places, respectively, in the three-mile varsity event, the feature of the program. Cornell won third place in the big event and finished first in both preliminaries, the Junior varsity and the freshman races.

The Middies' victory in the three-mile race was an impressive triumph much in keeping with their record for the past three years. With the majority of the oarsmen who won Olympic honors at Brussels last summer among them, the sweep swimmers from Annapolis jumped to the front at the very start of the long race down the Hudson and were never headed, finishing the three miles in the record time of 14 minutes 7 seconds.

The former record was made in 1898 by the Pennsylvania eight in 15 minutes 51/4 seconds on still water at Saratoga Lake.

California Makes Final Sprint. The spectacular feature of the regatta was furnished by California's crew of giant oarsmen, when, after battling for nearly two miles with the eight of Pennsylvania, Columbia and Syracuse, they staged a terrific sprint, and in the final hundred yards overhauled Cornell and hurled the prow of their shell into second place by a scant three feet. The Westerners' time was 14 minutes 22 seconds, which placed them three and a half lengths behind the Middies.

Then came Joe Benjamin, the lightweight, and Joe tried to outdo Herman. He worked like a streak and landed on the champion, too. This did not rattle Jack's temper, and he grinned when the crowd tried to coax Joe to knock out the king of clouters.

Martin Ludecke, a broad-beamed wrestler, stripped for action against the champion in a tugging ten, and, despite the fact that Ludecke is possessed of gorilla-like strength, Dempsey tossed him around as if he had been a kewpie doll. Ludecke is a fast wrestler, but when he attempted to grapple with Dempsey several times he found nothing there. By sidestepping and rolling his shoulders, Dempsey easily avoided the grappler.

Commerce Chamber to Care for Jersey City Title Fight Visitors. St. Louis members of the Chamber of Commerce who intend to visit Jersey City to witness the Carpentier-Dempsey bout July 2, may assure themselves of accommodations by communicating with the Jersey City Chamber of Commerce. This is the information received last night by Secretary P. V. Bunn of the St. Louis Chamber from Willard G. Stanton, manager of the Jersey City organization, who goes on to say that practically all living quarters in New York and Jersey City already have been reserved for the day of the fight.

"To meet this contingency," the letter continues, "and to take care of any visiting Chamber of Commerce members, our Jersey City organization through its membership has compiled a list of about three hundred available rooms. The people on this list are mainly members of the organization, and we can guarantee the accommodations of good and at a reasonable rate."

Carpentier's Aid Watches Dempsey In Training Bout

Pierre Mallet Is Impressed by Physique and Left Hand of the Champion.

From a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 23.—Pierre Mallet, the French army Lieutenant whose brother, Capt. Mallet, has been chaperoning Georges Carpentier and Francois Descamps at the Manhasset training camp, visited the Dempsey quarters yesterday and with Jim Corbett standing by his side, watched every move that the big champion made in the daily workout.

It just happened that M. Mallet came on a day when Dempsey had decided to work indoors. He saw Jack while the stuffing out of the big leather bag and drove the fast bag almost through the top of the bag platform, but if he came to get an eyeful of just what Jack does to his sparring partners, he was doomed to disappointment.

The stone-jawed hired men had been given a vacation. Poor Larry Williams was still spinning from the clouting he got Tuesday and with him out of the lineup it was planned to give little Babe Herman and Benjamin the opportunity of boxing with the champion.

Lieut. Mallet saw enough of Dempsey's boxing to impress him and he was generous in his praise for Dempsey's ability as a glove man.

Corbett kept telling Mallet that Dempsey's right was the weapon of assassination.

"Carpentier Adviser Impressed." "That may be, but it is his left hand that impresses me most," said Mallet. "Of course, there was little opportunity for him to cut loose with his left hand yesterday, but I know that he has a splendid left hand. I like the build of the fellow, his great chest and wonderfully turned legs. I know why so many Americans are willing to back him. They beat Georges. But even now that I've seen him I'm still confident that Georges will win. I've been his friend for many years and have been with him in every fight he has had since 1913 with the exception of the one with Levinsky. I know every move of his and I'm sure he can defeat any man in the world."

Mallet did more than watch Dempsey's movements. He kept talking about everything that Jack did. When he punched the light bag Mallet had his watch on him. He did the same when Jack crawled into the ring and cracked the big felt leather bag that weighs 75 pounds. Then it was that Mallet saw plenty of hard hitting, but not with a Spartan acting as target.

The big leather bag is suspended over the ring from chains, and when the champion is ready for it the bag is lowered to within hitting reach. Dempsey tried a new stunt with it today. He would punch it lightly with solid rights and lefts until the bag had been pelted to an almost horizontal position. Dempsey would suddenly whirl, cover about six feet of space and then turn to meet the bag coming to him in a giant sweep. Then he met it with all the power of his right-hand drive. He put his all into those wallpops.

He Needs No Neck Strengthening. He tried another wrinkle, that of ducking under the big bag and bucking it into the air with his head and shoulders like some enraged bull would have done. This move was designed to strengthen the champion's neck, a precaution that from all outward appearances seems hardly necessary. Dempsey wears a 17 collar.

He began with Babe Herman as a sparring mate, and the little featherweight set a pace that Dempsey seemed to enjoy hugely. Dempsey squatted low to bring himself down to the little fellow's size, yet this did not hamper Dempsey's speed in the least. He boxed splendidly, though he was ever careful not to smite the mite of a man before him.

Then came Joe Benjamin, the lightweight, and Joe tried to outdo Herman. He worked like a streak and landed on the champion, too. This did not rattle Jack's temper, and he grinned when the crowd tried to coax Joe to knock out the king of clouters.

Martin Ludecke, a broad-beamed wrestler, stripped for action against the champion in a tugging ten, and, despite the fact that Ludecke is possessed of gorilla-like strength, Dempsey tossed him around as if he had been a kewpie doll. Ludecke is a fast wrestler, but when he attempted to grapple with Dempsey several times he found nothing there. By sidestepping and rolling his shoulders, Dempsey easily avoided the grappler.

What European Celebrities Say As to Georges' Chance With Jack

NEW YORK, June 23.—On the new liner Paris in France yesterday, was the vanguard of the supporters of Carpentier, in his fight with Dempsey. They were a sanguine lot.

Charles Lehou, bantamweight champion of Europe, who will be in Carpentier's corner, said: "I think Carpentier will knock out Dempsey by the sixth round. I have seen both men in action, and base my opinion on what I saw. This is the first time in his career that Dempsey will have to fight a brain. Carpentier's brain, coupled with his strength and precision in hitting, will win. He can hit hard enough to knock out the best man that ever lived with a single blow."

Victor Breyer, who is to report the fight for the Echo de Sports of Paris, said: "Carpentier is a lot better man than he is generally credited with being. Dempsey, however, is also a great fighter. Not having seen him in action, I would not like to venture an opinion."

Benny Benson, who comes for the London Daily Telegraph, said: "While no British sports writer has seen Dempsey, they all regard him as being a great fighter, as distinct from a boxer. In meeting Carpentier he is meeting the greatest pugilistic personality in Europe."

Andre Glaner, former world's record indoor half-mile athlete, who represents the Excelsior and the Petit Parisien, said: "I think Carpentier is as fast as Abe Attell or Joe Gans were in their prime. I have seen all the best men in America fight and have seen all of Carpentier's big encounters. He is too fast to be caught by Dempsey, and will win."

Louis Hieriot, the aviator and airplane constructor, said: "I have never seen Dempsey fight, but I have seen everyone of Carpentier's big encounters, and that's good enough for me."

Willard Will Not See Title Fight; Says He Is Too Busy to Attend

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 23.—Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion, told friends here today that he was too busy to be in Jersey City, N. J., on July 2 to witness the championship bout between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier. He added that he had stopped over here while en route to oil fields in Montana.

Asked what chance he thought Carpentier would have with the champion, Willard said: "I haven't seen Dempsey for a long time."

In response to a question as to whether he planned to fight Carpentier, should the latter defeat Dempsey, Willard declared: "I am too busy to think of fighting anybody, just now."

WORKMAN, OHIO STATE GRID STAR, SUSPENDED

COLUMBUS, O., June 23.—Harry H. "Hoge" Workman, quarterback on Ohio State University's football team which won the Western Conference championship last season, has been suspended from all student activities for one year by President Thompson for alleged cheating during the last May mid-term examinations. It became known today. He loses all credit for the last semester. The suspension will prevent him from playing on the football team next season. Thirty other students were suspended for like reason. Workman is a sophomore in the arts college. His home is at Huntington, W. Va.

No excuses were offered for the British team but it was contended its play was really excellent, except in the players' inability to seize opportunities and to hit straight.

On every hand it was admitted today that victory went where it was most deserved, and news writers and editors accepted the result of the two matches with cheerful resignation. The London Times said: "The Americans won because they had the better team, and we have enough belief in the excellence of British polo to be persuaded that what is better than its best is very good indeed."

No excuses were offered for the British team but it was contended its play was really excellent, except in the players' inability to seize opportunities and to hit straight.

Georges Working Hard, Is Keeping Real Form Secret

Listless Public Workouts Conceal Strenuous Private Ones, Observers Say.

By the Associated Press.

MANHASSET, June 23.—Georges Carpentier is hiding his real fighting ability behind a series of listless public workouts.

For some reason, which his manager will not explain, the aspirant to the world's heavyweight title is entertaining his audiences with smiles, but working viciously in private. Carpentier has arrived at a point in his training where he is a veritable flash of speed and an atlas of strength.

During his morning road workouts, when only his trainer and sparring partners are in sight, he goes through a series of strength developing stunts.

Challenger Conceals Power. The challenger is careful, however, not to show his speed or strength when strangers are about. The mystery workout with the three unidentified pugilists, yesterday morning, was a real interesting affair according to information emanating from the camp today.

Georges was said, was told to work hard and as a result his opponents were lambasted unmercifully by his trainers. It was said, were so pleased with his showing that they may repeat this sort of training on favorable mornings.

"DEMPSEY JUST GOOD FOR ME," CORRI DECLARES CARPENTIER TOLD HIM

SOUTHAMPTON, June 23.—Eugene Corri, the famous boxing referee, sailed for New York from here yesterday on the steamship Adriatic.

Corri said that he had been cabled for by Tex Rickard, the promoter of the Dempsey-Carpentier bout. He did not know for certain whether he was wanted to referee the fight, but as he understood that Francois Descamps, Carpentier's manager, had objected to an American referee, he thought it quite likely this was the reason.

He said that he never had seen Dempsey in action, and consequently could not express an opinion on the result, but added that "I'll tell you what Carpentier told me—Dempsey is a big, heavy man, just good for me."

COLUMBUS, O., June 23.—T. T. Pittenger, Columbus, will head the Ohio State University 1922 track team. It was announced here today. Pittenger has a record of 49.4 seconds in the 440-yard dash.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY
By James J. Montague.

AN APOLOGY.
When lovely woman first declared
No more her soul should custom fetter
Allowing she was quite prepared
To do man's work as well—or better,
We knew, of course, that she was fit
For many useful occupations
And yet, we might as well admit
We held out certain reservations.
"She can," said we, "succeed at law;
Her fine capacity for fury
Will cow a Judge, and overawe
The thickest sort of hard-boiled jury.
And though the sight of blood, mayhap
In her more careful days has shocked 'er
When she gets on a gown and cap
She'll make a pretty able doctor."
"But in the higher walks of crime
Although she's bright and shrewd and clever,
She'll not succeed for quite a time
In fact, the chances are, not ever.
High crime requires a heavy tax
On strength and nerve, when once you've planned it,
In both these things a woman lacks;
She'll never be a first-class bandit."
But now we read about a Jane
Who rolled and robbed a helpless victim
And when he ventured to complain
She tucked up both her sleeves and licked him
Our prophecies of woman kind
Have met, it seems, with dire disaster
In consequence, we've changed our mind;
There's nothing that she cannot master.
